Solicitor Terms Chester Sewage Pacts As Invalid

Contracts with a Wheeling engineer and a Cincinnati bonding firm for Chester's proposed sewage disposal system were declared void by Chester Council Wednesday night following a ruling by the city solicitor.

Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner, the solicitor, reported the agreements with the A. R. Todd Associates, engineers, and Magnus & Co. of Cincinnati were not binding contracts, according to her study.

Council, at a special meeting Monday night, had requested the legal study after some members indicated dissatisfaction with some of the planning aspects of the project.

Last night's vote to declare the contracts void was split, with Councilman Donald Hissam opposing the move. Hissam said he did not want the city to face an exorbitant suit over the matter.

1952 Letter Cited

Mrs. Turner said the agreement with Magnus was in the form of a letter written May 19, 1952, signed by George Scott, then mayor. Later a memorandum was prepared for Council, but this arrangement was rejected by Council.

Magnus has served as a financial consultant on the project, for which a federal grant of $105,000 has been allotted. Cost of the project currently is estimated at over $450,000.

The contract with Todd was signed July 6, 1954, by Scott and Council agreed at that time to permit Todd to make a preliminary survey, for which he would not be paid unless the whole project were undertaken. Todd reported to Council Monday his work has cost some $11,000 so far.

Mrs. Turner last night said the contract is insufficient because Scott lacked the authority to enter into the agreement with Todd.

Obligation Seen

She said, however, there is a "moral obligation" to Todd and Magnus, and it is up to the present Council to determine whether to retain them. She said the city Sanitary Board is the authorized group to enter into contracts with the approval of Council, but there was no sanitary board formed at the time of the original agreements.

Councilman Hissam asked where the city would get $11,000 to pay Todd for the preliminary survey should he file a suit for the sum.

Councilman Charles Kology said he believed the Todd costs are much "too high." Councilman

Democrats Being Polled On Tax Cut

Mansfield Reveals Results Thus Far Have Been Mixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's aides are polling congressional Democrats on their attitude toward a possible immediate tax cut to cushion the economy.

Confirming that such a canvass is under way in the Senate, Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said in an interview the results thus far have been mixed.

Mansfield said he is certain Kennedy has made no decision on whether to request a reduction in levies. But he added the President obviously is interested in knowing in advance what reception he could expect if such a request were made.

"This late in the session, it would be a difficult thing to manage," Mansfield said.

Kennedy is said to be reluctant to acknowledge any such adverse trend in the economy as a tax reduction request would signal. Beyond that he is said to feel that if a request were made and rejected, the reaction could invite a recession that might otherwise be avoided.

As politically incredible as it may seem in an election year, Congress appears far from eager to vote a tax cut. There prevails at nearly all levels some apprehension about how the voters will react to continued high spending and a ballooning deficit.

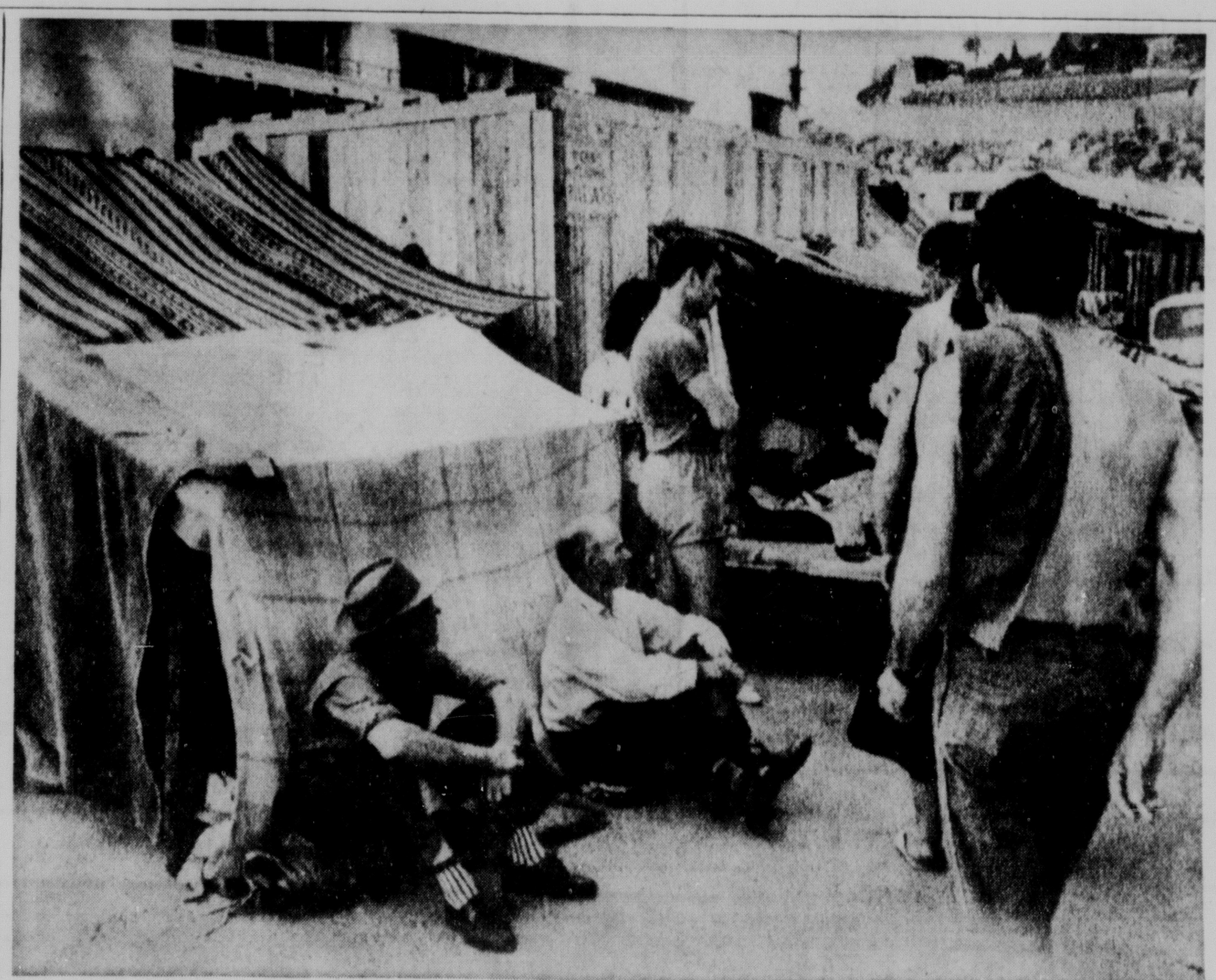

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., stands athwart the portal of the tax-handling Senate Finance Committee, determined to fight against any reduction which would further unbalance the budget.

While he may be somewhat more tractable, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee remains to be convinced that a tax reduction is desirable at this time.

Moreover, Mills would be likely to lay down some conditions which would start the tax measure through Congress on an uncertain course.

For instance, Mills and his committee colleagues might insist that a withholding tax on interest and dividends be included in the bill to help make up for revenue losses. The House voted for this but Byrd's Senate committee knocked it out of a tax revision measure now before it.

In any event, a tax reduction would have to be made a temporary one if the administration later is to get the general overhaul of the revenue code it wants. Such an overhaul would need the sweetener of a permanent reduction to get anywhere.

Planned Following Balloon Flight To 992 Miles In Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —With a successful balloon shot in the record books, the nation's space agency now takes dead aim at Venus with an interplanetary spaceship scheduled for launching Saturday.

An Atlas-Agena B rocket is set to blast off before dawn Saturday to start a Mariner I spacecraft on a 226 million mile journey to probe mysteries of the cloud-shrouded neighboring planet.

Scientists and technicians labored Wednesday to ready the rocket and payload as another group launched a 135-foot diameter balloon to a point 992 miles in space to test ejection and inflation techniques for an improved Echo communications satellite.

The balloon, folded in the nose of the Thor booster on launching, separated and inflated successfully at an altitude of 230 miles and soared upward to its planned trajectory peak before falling back to burn up in the Earth's atmosphere, as planned, 23 minutes after launching.

Project officials watched the inflation, flight and burnup of the giant sphere on closed circuit television relayed from a camera mounted in the Thor nose.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported complete success of the mission and said it plans to launch one of the 13-story spheres into orbit in the fall as an experimental passive communications satellite to be named Echo II.

The balloon, largest but not heaviest manmade vehicle ever launched into space, is 35 feet taller and much more rigid than the Echo I balloon placed in orbit two years ago.

Echo II will help determine whether this passive type satellite or an active repeater type like Telstar is the most feasible for an operational space communications network.

In contrast with Wednesday's brief flight, Mariner I is intended to make a 4½-month journey across the vastness of space before flying close to Venus in early December.

Army Junta Quells Riot In Peru Unrest

Military's Seizure Of Power Brings Rebuffs By Allies

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Demonstrations continued in Lima Wednesday night but were broken up quickly by the military junta, whose seizure of power brought sharp rebuffs from hemispheric allies.

The armed forces clamped dictatorial rule on the Andean nation and appeared in complete control—at least for the moment —after overthrowing the constitutional government of President Manuel Prado.

Sporadic demonstrations, which were sparked by students and teen-agers, broke out in the capital in protest against the military takeover of the government to nullify the June 10 national elections.

Troops, firing submachine gun bursts into the air and tear gas, and police, using water cannon and wielding truncheons, dispersed the demonstrations.

Three students were reported wounded during the day.

A bigger threat to the junta came from the giant Confederation of Labor, whose leaders were reported considering a general strike in protest against the military seizure of power. The confederation controls 75 per cent of the nation's labor force.

The United States quickly denounced the coup, suspended diplomatic relations with Peru, and halted further Alliance for Progress aid, which has been pouring into the country at the rate of $75 million a year.

The U.S. action stopped short of a full break in diplomatic relations, and U.S. Ambassador James Loeb was ordered to remain in Lima to report developments.

Strike Halts Construction Of 11 A-Subs

Union Snubs Offer Of Raise, Improved Fringe Benefits

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Contruction of 11 nuclear submarines was tied up today by a strike of 8,700 production workers at General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division.

The walkout began after the union workers rejected the company offer of a two-year contract providing an additional 14 cents an hours in pay and improved fringe benefits.

The pioneer in its field, the shipyard has built 11 of the Navy's 24 commissioned nuclear submarines, including the world's first, the Nautilus.

Federal and state mediators scheduled a meeting today in an effort to bring about a quick settlement.

Involved in the dispute are 11 AFL-CIO craft unions who negotiate together as the Metal Trades Council of New London County.

The workers rejected management's latest offer Wednesday by a vote of 4,573-2,074, although it had been recommended by their negotiating committee.

The principal obstacle in the way of a settlement appears to be certain seniority provisions.

The old contract expired last Friday but the unions agreed to a temporary extension while the mediators attempted to bring both sides together.

The Polaris submarine Alexander Hamilton is scheduled for launching Aug. 4. Company officials were unable to say if the date will be kept.

Beaver Youths Hurt When Car Crashes In Palestine Area

A 41-year-old Chester man was injured seriously and a woman passenger on his motorcycle was hurt when the cycle struck a dog on Route 45 Wednesday night — one of three area accidents in which two Beaver boys and a Salem area youth were hurt.

Charles L. White, 41, of 128 Montana Ave., Chester, is in "poor" condition today at City Hospital with a fractured left leg, possible skull fracture and multiple abrasions of the body received when the cycle struck the dog near West Point at 9:30 p. m.

Wilma Jean Eaton, 30, of 308 Virginia Ave., East Liverpool, was treated for injuries of the left ankle.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said White's 1962 model motorcycle hit a dog owned by Leslie Horner of Lisbon R. D. 2 when the dog ran into the path of the cycle. Damage to the cycle was estimated to $225.

The dog, a beagle hound, was killed in the mishap which occurred near the Horner home, south of West Point.

Balloting Looms On Building Plan

If action started by Wellsville City Council at a special session Wednesday afternoon is followed through, citizens seeking the right to vote on a proposal whether or not to construct a combination City Hall-Post have won an apparent victory.

After a lengthy debate, which became heated at times, Council voted to place the proposal on the fall ballot. The motion, made by Councilman Donald Miller and seconded by Councilman Dwight MacLean, was to "have Council decide whether or not to put the issue to the vote of the people."

A resulting 3-3 tie was broken by Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, who voted in favor of the motion. Council later ordered the necessary resolution to have the issue put on the ballot for the Nov. 6 general election.

If this resolution is passed, the action will be completed. Another special session will be held today to vote on the resolution.

COUNCILMEN Miller, MacLean and Robert Taggart voted to allow the residents to ballot on the issue, while the move was opposed by Councilmen Allen Baldwin, Mrs. Kay Drago and Frank DeLonzo.

The special meeting was called today by Mrs. Rahter after four of the councilmen were absent at the regularly - scheduled meeting Tuesday night. Absent were Baldwin, Stroble, Miller and DeLonzo.

Stroble is in Florida on vacation and the other three were working. Several residents who have been circulating initiative petitions were present Tuesday night to display them in hopes of having Council change its original stand against placing the issue on the ballot.

Mrs. Rahter commented that some of the members might change their minds after reading the petitions.

THE PETITIONS were on the question of whether or not the residents should be allowed to vote on the issue. If this issue was put on the ballot and passed, another election test would be required on the proposal of whether or not to construct a combination building.

As the session opened, Baldwin said he wanted the opportunity to explain to fellow members of Council, the audience and press representatives that he, DeLonzo and Miller were working Tuesday night and were not trying to dodge the issue.

DeLonzo became very angry at one point when he accused James Pilmer, who was in the audience, of checking on him both at his home and at work Tuesday night. Miller commented he was working and that he was not in the habit of "passing the buck."

Baldwin commented his stand remains as it always has.

"There are enough names on the petitions to place the issue on the ballot, so let the residents present them to the Election Board," he commented.

When questioned, Baldwin said he understands the issue would require two separate votes and the city would have to pay the election costs.

—:—

BALDWIN SAID he could not understand why the residents would want to put the city further in debt. Mrs. Helen Welch, one of those circulating the petitions, said the people "just want the opportunity to vote."

DeLonzo said some of those

Budget Lists $1,000 Boost At Wellsville

$113,808 Slated; $15,296 Deficit's Seen At Year End

The 1963 budget, anticipating receipts of $113,808.41 for the general fund, was adopted by Wellsville City Council at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon.

It is an increase of slightly more than $1,000 over the 1962 total of $112,614.

The budget estimates expenditures of $129,105, which with an anticipated deficit of $3,887.59 at the end of this year, would leave the city in the red a total of $15,296.59.

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, commented that all the figures presented are estimates.

"But if they prove true, we will have to have an income tax to keep the city in the black," he commented.

Miller also said he hopes the action is not necessary because he does not favor such a tax.

Adopted under suspension of rules, the budget now will be submitted to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon. The commission will determine the millage necessary inside and outside the

Water Shutoff Slated For Wellsville Tonight

Water service to all Wellsville residents from 14th St. to the lower end of town will be turned off at midnight tonight to allow installation of a valve on a four-inch main, according to Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare.

A fire plug at 19th St. and Chester Ave. is leaking badly and must be replaced. The valve will be installed ahead of the plug. Then repairs to the plug will be made later. Baldasare said it will take only about three hours to install the valve.

The work is scheduled for midnight because much less water is used at this time and it will not be as much of an inconvenience to the residents, the director said. The H. K. Porter Co., Allied Oil Terminal and the Sulphur Terminal have been notified the service will be off.

Girl Plunges 2,000 Feet Into Lake As Chute Fails

MARSTON MILLS, Mass. (AP) —Lois Ann Frotten's parachute failed to open Wednesday and she plummeted 2,000 feet, plunging into Mystic Lake.

It was the 20-year-old girl's first jump, and she gasped, "I'll never jump again."

She was rushed to Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis, where attendants were amazed to discover she apparently escaped serious injury. Preliminary examination showed only facial cuts.

Scott Connell, 14, was on the lake shore when Miss Frotten landed in some 20 feet of water. He said she hit the water feet first with a "terrific splash."

Young Connell got his family speedboat, and with aid of Fred Whitely, who was fishing on the lake, sped to the girl's rescue.

Whitely said Miss Frotten tumbled down through the sky "end over end."

Almost at the same moment, Jack L. LaRoche, 22, of Watertown, Miss Frotten's instructor, landed in the lake after parachuting from the private plane. He had seen she was in trouble on the way down and leaped after her.

On the way to the hospital in an ambulance, Miss Frotten, dazed and almost incoherent, gasped repeatedly, "I'll never jump again."

Later, she asked: "What did I do wrong?"

Fellow members of the sky diving unit of which Miss Frotten was a member said she apparently forgot to pull the ripcord of her emergency chute when the automatic chute failed to function properly.

State Ruritan Session Scheduled For Lisbon

LISBON — Jack E. Snider, registrar at King College in Bristol, Tenn., and former assistant secretary of Ruritan National, will be guest speaker for the 10th anniversary of Ohio Ruritans here Saturday, July 28.

County Extension Agent Floyd Lower, president of Ruritan National, will have a role in the observance.

Reservations are due xy Monday. The event will be held at the Fairgrounds, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Members and their families are invited. There will be recreation, entertainment, fellowship and a program. A chicken barbecue dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m.

The Floral Hall will be used in case of rain. Lisbon's club will count the anniversary as its July meeting.

$41.7 Million Spent On Project

Pentagon Junks World's Biggest Radio Telescope

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's biggest movable radio telescope has been declared obsolete even before it could take its first sounding in space.

In junking the project Wednesday the Pentagon cited zooming costs as well as rapid advances in space technology.

Since 1958, the government had spent $41.7 million of the $126.2 million voted by Congress for the research station at Sugar Grove, W. Va.

West Virginians, who planned to use "the big ear" as a tourist attraction during next year's centennial observance, kept a stiff upper lip.

The decision, said Gov. W. W. Barron, will "by no means" halt plans for a tourist project near the Pendleton County site in the state's eastern Panhandle.

And, said the West Virginia Centennial Commission, the telescope stays on its official emblem.

The Pentagon action had been rumored for more than a year. Meanwhile, the construction progressed to the point where access roads were built in remote areas, the site graded and the turntable completed.

The telescope, standing 700 feet high and weighing 50,000 tons, was to listen for signals from any life on other worlds.

Usable also as radar, the 600-foot, dish-like antenna was to be capable of mapping the surface of the moon, bounce signals off Mars and Jupiter and explore outer space in preparation for deep space probe experiments.

No Meeting Scheduled In Lisbon Plant Strike

LISBON — No break appears in a strike which has idled the Thomas Works of H. K. Porter Co., Inc., since July 1.

Plant Manager D. M. Van Schoik and Bill Wilfong, president of Local 797, Brick and Clay Workers of America, give the same answer — "Nothing new." No meetings are scheduled to solve the wage dispute.

Lisbon's largest industry, the plant employs 140 in production of porcelain insulators. Thirty more work in the offices. Reports that some office help has been recalled to take inventory circulate without official confirmation.

Budget Lists $1,000 Boost At Wellsville

$113,808 Slated; $15,296 Deficit's Seen At Year End

The 1963 budget, anticipating receipts of $113,808.41 for the general fund, was adopted by Wellsville City Council at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon.

It is an increase of slightly more than $1,000 over the 1962 total of $112,614.

The budget estimates expenditures of $129,105, which with an anticipated deficit of $3,887.59 at the end of this year, would leave the city in the red a total of $15,296.59.

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, commented that all the figures presented are estimates.

"But if they prove true, we will have to have an income tax to keep the city in the black," he commented.

Miller also said he hopes the action is not necessary because he does not favor such a tax.

Adopted under suspension of rules, the budget now will be submitted to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon. The commission will determine the millage necessary inside and outside the

No Meeting Scheduled In Lisbon Plant Strike

LISBON — No break appears in a strike which has idled the Thomas Works of H. K. Porter Co., Inc., since July 1.

Plant Manager D. M. Van Schoik and Bill Wilfong, president of Local 797, Brick and Clay Workers of America, give the same answer — "Nothing new." No meetings are scheduled to solve the wage dispute.

Lisbon's largest industry, the plant employs 140 in production of porcelain insulators. Thirty more work in the offices. Reports that some office help has been recalled to take inventory circulate without official confirmation.

Water Shutoff Slated For Wellsville Tonight

Water service to all Wellsville residents from 14th St. to the lower end of town will be turned off at midnight tonight to allow installation of a valve on a four-inch main, according to Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare.

A fire plug at 19th St. and Chester Ave. is leaking badly and must be replaced. The valve will be installed ahead of the plug. Then repairs to the plug will be made later. Baldasare said it will take only about three hours to install the valve.

The work is scheduled for midnight because much less water is used at this time and it will not be as much of an inconvenience to the residents, the director said. The H. K. Porter Co., Allied Oil Terminal and the Sulphur Terminal have been notified the service will be off.

Suffers Only Facial Cuts

Girl Plunges 2,000 Feet Into Lake As Chute Fails

MARSTON MILLS, Mass. (AP) —Lois Ann Frotten's parachute failed to open Wednesday and she plummeted 2,000 feet, plunging into Mystic Lake.

It was the 20-year-old girl's first jump, and she gasped, "I'll never jump again."

She was rushed to Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis, where attendants were amazed to discover she apparently escaped serious injury. Preliminary examination showed only facial cuts.

Scott Connell, 14, was on the lake shore when Miss Frotten landed in some 20 feet of water. He said she hit the water feet first with a "terrific splash."

Young Connell got his family speedboat, and with aid of Fred Whitely, who was fishing on the lake, sped to the girl's rescue.

Whitely said Miss Frotten tumbled down through the sky "end over end."

Almost at the same moment, Jack L. LaRoche, 22, of Watertown, Miss Frotten's instructor, landed in the lake after parachuting from the private plane. He had seen she was in trouble on the way down and leaped after her.

On the way to the hospital in an ambulance, Miss Frotten, dazed and almost incoherent, gasped repeatedly, "I'll never jump again."

Later, she asked: "What did I do wrong?"

Fellow members of the sky diving unit of which Miss Frotten was a member said she apparently forgot to pull the ripcord of her emergency chute when the automatic chute failed to function properly.

State Ruritan Session Scheduled For Lisbon

LISBON — Jack E. Snider, registrar at King College in Bristol, Tenn., and former assistant secretary of Ruritan National, will be guest speaker for the 10th anniversary of Ohio Ruritans here Saturday, July 28.

County Extension Agent Floyd Lower, president of Ruritan National, will have a role in the observance.

Reservations are due xy Monday. The event will be held at the Fairgrounds, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Members and their families are invited. There will be recreation, entertainment, fellowship and a program. A chicken barbecue dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m.

The Floral Hall will be used in case of rain. Lisbon's club will count the anniversary as its July meeting.

$41.7 Million Spent On Project

Pentagon Junks World's Biggest Radio Telescope

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's biggest movable radio telescope has been declared obsolete even before it could take its first sounding in space.

In junking the project Wednesday the Pentagon cited zooming costs as well as rapid advances in space technology.

Since 1958, the government had spent $41.7 million of the $126.2 million voted by Congress for the research station at Sugar Grove, W. Va.

West Virginians, who planned to use "the big ear" as a tourist attraction during next year's centennial observance, kept a stiff upper lip.

The decision, said Gov. W. W. Barron, will "by no means" halt plans for a tourist project near the Pendleton County site in the state's eastern Panhandle.

And, said the West Virginia Centennial Commission, the telescope stays on its official emblem.

The Pentagon action had been rumored for more than a year. Meanwhile, the construction progressed to the point where access roads were built in remote areas, the site graded and the turntable completed.

The telescope, standing 700 feet high and weighing 50,000 tons, was to listen for signals from any life on other worlds.

Usable also as radar, the 600-foot, dish-like antenna was to be capable of mapping the surface of the moon, bounce signals off Mars and Jupiter and explore outer space in preparation for deep space probe experiments.

Soviet Hints 'Deal' With West On A-Arms

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union indicated today it would withhold nuclear weapons from Red China if the West dealt likewise with West Germany and other Atlantic Allies.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told a committee of the 17-nation disarmament conference Moscow is ready to join the United States, Britain and France in a firm pledge to stop the spread of nuclear weapons.

Approves Celebrezze

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today unanimously approved President Kennedy's nomination of Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland to be secretary of welfare.

Senate, House Committee Prestige Battle Has Ended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The three-month prestige battle between the Senate and House Appropriations Committee has ended —for this year.

Settlement terms announced Wednesday add up to a victory for the House. Until the end of this session its senior Appropriations Committee members will share the chairmanship of conference sessions on money bills.

All government departments have been operating under temporary spending authority while the feud raged. The truce clears the way for passage of regular appropriations bills needed to keep the government in business.

The Senate's demand to originate half of the money bills went down the drain. Retained was the Senate's earlier concession to hold the conferences in the old Supreme Court chamber near the center of the Capitol, instead of on the far side of the Senate wing.

Traditionally, senators have presided at all conferences.

The House committee, headed by Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., had challenged this procedure, demanding half the sessions be presided over by House members and half be held in the House wing.

The Senate group, headed by Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., in turn demanded the right to originate half the money bills, which now begin in the House.

An effort to reconcile the differences on a permanent basis will be undertaken by a joint committee that will make recommendations next January.

New Jersey Wagon Train Ends Trek To World's Fair

SEATTLE (AP)—The New Jersey wagon train wound up its cross-country trek to the World's Fair in dust and dismay Wednesday night.

Twenty miles from Seattle, and 3,500 miles from home, the party of 107, including 33 children, was shunted off the highway into the "Century City Campsite," which they had pictured as a place of comfort and pleasure.

Instead, they found a rutted and rocky road leading to a recently cleared patch littered with tree stumps and brush.

Said Wagon Master Henry Warnaar of Clifton, N.J.:

"We've made 13 stops and we've been treated royally all along the way. We expected to come into a very nice place. This is terrible."

The caravan had started from Salem, N.J., and visited other Salems on the way. Salem, Ohio, had been its first stop.

Some in the party, which traveled in 32 autos and trailers, pulled out immediately, intending to by-pass Seattle and the fair and head for Canada. Many moved to a trailer site at nearby Auburn.

David S. Davies, executive director of the New Jersey Tercentenary Commission, eyed the campsite and wryly observed:

"So far as I can see, Seattle is nowhere, and this is 20 miles from it."

Councilmen Talk For Meeting Of Democratic Club

Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray spoke at a meeting of the East Liverpool Democratic Club Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel, explaining their stands on several questions which came before Council at the last two sessions.

Leo Payne, chairman of the city Central Committee, announced a meeting of precinct committeemen will be called soon to lay plans for the campaign for the November general election.

The ticket committee reported tickets are selling briskly for the annual picnic Aug. 26 at Arrowhead Lake, near Columbiana, and a large crowd is expected.

Frank Bennett, recently named provisionally as superintendent of the city incinerator department, submitted his resignation as a trustee.

Donald Hancock, chairman, president. The next meeting will be Aug. 21 at the hotel.

Jazz Concert Figure Takes Stand On Fete

CINCINNATI (AP) — George Wein of Boston, producer of jazz concerts, says the planned festival in Cincinnati's Carthage Fairgrounds next month is out if he can't use the fairgrounds stands.

He said Wednesday his agreement with the county commission included use of all fairground facilities, including the seats. City Building Chief Don Hunter reported the stands would hold a quiet audience, but would not take a rowdy crowd "stomping and stamping about."

Urbana Jersey Has Record In Butterfat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The American Jersey Cattle Club has announced that Dandy Mac Beacon Marilyn, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Stinson of Urbana, completed the highest butterfat record in the club's 94-year history.

Her official record totaled 23,678 pounds of milk (nearly 12 tons) and 1,343 pounds of butterfat in one year, surpassing the previous high of 1,319 pounds of butterfat by a Jersey in Oregon 10 years ago.

Medicare Issue Fizzled Out

The Kennedy administration's "medicare" proposal has flopped in this session of Congress, as we felt sure it would.

It was our belief that the politicians would goad the medical profession into a state of near-hysteria over this proposal, then leave the doctors high and dry for the 1962 congressional elections.

What the politicians wanted, we felt sure, was the issue of medical care for this year's congressional elections. They did not want "medicare" to pass until they had squeezed the votes out of it.

With this in mind, we suggested that doctors do everything in their power not to accommodate the opposition in a game doctors weren't skilled at playing. Needless to say, the doctors and their friends did not react to this favorably.

They may have been right in putting up a strenuous fight. Perhaps they can regard it as practice for the fight they may have to put up in the next Congress, when politicians favoring some version of the Kennedy "medicare" proposal will go to work in earnest.

AFTER THEIR setback in the Senate Tuesday, some of the politicians may be having second thoughts about the political appeal of this issue. They always knew it wasn't going to rally enough votes in the House to come close to passing, but they thought it had an outside chance in the Senate. As such things go, it never had a chance there either—not on a 54-48 turndown at the climax.

This may destroy it as a political issue.

The way it turned out, most Americans rallied to their doctors instead of to "medicare." This doesn't mean there isn't still a problem of paying the sickness bills of the elderly. It does mean that there's no demonstrable political mileage in a hassle over what most doctors insist would have been an entering wedge for socialized medicine.

That point of view pretty well dead-ends any possibility of public intervention to cushion sickness costs for elderly Americans who run short of money in their twilight years.

The alternative is a vast extension of what is in being now—more insurance setups to cover medical care costs that mount to ruinous levels.

IT IS TRAGIC that the main source of the high cost of sickness is not the cost of keeping a doctor on the job but the cost of keeping a patient in a hospital. Yet it's doctors who get blamed and it seems as if they go out of their way to set themselves up as targets.

What aging citizens of the United States are interested in isn't socialized medicine but a way of paying their sickness bills if they haven't been able to set aside enough to cover all exigencies.

They aren't interested in socializing medicine, even if some politicians are.

They aren't interested in contributing to any federal snafu.

They're interested solely in what has become a worrisome problem for millions who haven't much left to look forward to but maintaining solvency during their declining years.

IT WAS OUR opinion at the beginning of the medical care debate early this year that none of the proposals was worthy of the grave problem that confronted aging Americans.

Out of that grew the conviction that the doctors shouldn't let themselves be marched into a sham battle with politicians.

The "medicare" issue now is dead as far as legislation is concerned. Whether it's dead as far as votes in next November's election are concerned is problematic.

We suspect it was killed Tuesday afternoon in the U.S. Senate.

Treat All Alike

Each time raids are staged on taverns in Hancock County cries can be heard from the self - styled "little fellows" as to why so many of the "big fellows" are left alone.

While not defending them, it is easy to understand the feeling of the "little fellows".

Angry thoughts of favoritism on behalf of the "big fellows", bitter expressions against county bossism and other feelings of disgust must run through their minds when they are made targets of a raid and others are not.

The only fair answer to the whole thing would seem to be for the raiders and the courts to play no favorites — hit the "big fellows" and the "little fellows" alike and shut them all down when the occasion demands. And a look at the records would show that such action would be more than justified in many, many cases.

Berlin Serves A Purpose

It is time again to worry about Berlin.

President Kennedy and Chairman Khrushchev are squaring off on the perennial issue of whether the United States and the Western Allies have a right to occupy this enclave inside East Germany.

Actually, there's no issue. The Western Allies have every right there is to be there. Chairman Khrushchev and his advisers know this. Yet they reopen the issue of Berlin periodically. Why?

If the reason were looked at from their point of view it would be clearer. Berlin to them is invaluable as a means of keeping the Western Allies in an uproar. It is invaluable as a means of keeping the non-Communist world in a state of anxiety.

It can be turned on and off like a recording. It isn't remote and awkward like Laos, the Congo and other distance places where districtions have been made to occur from time to time. Neither is it necessary to build up Berlin's nuisance value each time with publicity and diplomatic maneuver.

At any given moment, the premier of the Soviet Union can say something ominous about Berlin and within 24 hours the Western World will be in a state of anxiety. News commentators will untie their Berlin files. People who had been worrying about Algeria, Quemoy, Matsu, the Congo, Latin America, Mexico, the Macmillan Cabinet shakeup in Britain, or Ban-the-Bomb pickets will worry about Berlin instead.

As can be said about so many things in this world, if Berlin didn't exist Khrushchev and the Russians would have to invent it to keep the Western Allies off stride. Without Berlin to upset them they might learn to stride in unison.

The city serves a purpose for the Soviet Union. The fact it also serves a purpose for the Western Allies must always be remembered too. We use it to bother the Communists almost as systematically as the Communists use it to bother us.

Restoration

By Truman Twill

They're having a flap about Shakespeare's "birthplace" in Stratford Upon Avon, dubbed the "world's biggest leg-pull" by Roderick Eagle, who claims it's a phony.

According to Eagle the house is scarcely 100 years old and not worth the awe with which it's viewed by a quarter of a million visitors a year. Naturally, this point of view has stirred opposition in Stratford. Mr. Eagle's tail feathers are being pulled out, even if he is a literary expert.

But mark well the official Stratford explanation. It embodies the secret of Briton's thriving industry of showing visitors historic places—and there are hundreds of them.

The house that purports to be Shakespeare's birthplace, the explanation makes clear, is on the site of his probable birthplace. The house itself is a restoration, structurally accurate though not actually the house where Shakespeare was born.

Everything we looked at, including the Shakespeare birthplace, was to some extent a restoration. Scaffolding is as much a part of the historic scene as functionaries selling tickets and fluttery ladies who take you around.

In the case of cathedrals, all visitors are asked to contribute to this never-ending work. Castles and historic places charge admission for upkeep.

Over the course of centuries just about everything that existed originally has been replaced at least once. Even the structures now in ruins are kept that way by diligent maintenance. Otherwise, everything old enough to be worth seeing would have been reduced to dust long ago.

Of course the house in Stratford isn't where Shakespeare was born. It can't even be proved he was born on the site of the house. But it doesn't really matter to the people who go there. The town is beautiful. It is a tourist mecca. It's where the Bard once lived. What else matters?

We saw one place that probably is the way it was when its occupants made it famous—the Wordsworth Cottage at Grasmere. This is where the poet and his sister Dorothy lived when she began to write her "Journal."

Here the poet saw the "fields of laughing daffodils" that all of us envisioned through his words when we learned them as school children. Personally, I had thought of them as fields of cultivated daffodils, but in fact they were wild daffodils that still grow on the hillsides around Grasmere.

Dove Cottage isn't really old yet, as antiquity is measured in England. The Wordsworth lived there in 1800, only a little more than a century and a half ago. But you can bet on this: That 200 years from now Dove Cottage will still be there, restored, and schoolmarm guides will still be taking reverential tourists through its low-ceilinged rooms.

Restoration is not leg-pulling. It's a concession to the respect most of us feel for places where important things once happened. The British turn this respect into an industry. It took them a long time to quit sacking their historic buildings, but now they turn them over to the National Trust for perpetual care.

We're still bulldozing ours, and at the rate we're going there won't be anything left to visit by the time we come to our senses. Our tourists will have to look at nothing but superhighways, gas stations, drive-ins, and the place where Jmimy Dean wrecked his sports car.

McNamara Lists Fallout Facts

By Sec. Robert McNamara

Victor Riesel asked Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara for a discussion of America's plans for civilian survival. Here it is — straight from the Pentagon.

One feature of the national scene during the past several months has been our running debate on fallout shelters. If the discussion has at times generated more heat than light, to me it has provided a notable example of American democracy at work.

One of the by-products of our freedom of speech is that all of us can turn into overnight experts on any subject from baseball to moon flights. And while this popular propensity may give the bona fide experts some pain, the more farsighted of them will welcome the interest of their grassroots colleagues — for only through the understanding and support that comes from free and open debate can progress be achieved.

So it was with fallout shelters.

LAST YEAR the President of the United States, after carefully weighing the counsel of his scientific, military, economic and diplomatic advisers, recommended the development of a nationwide system of fallout shelters. This, he emphasized, would provide the best insurance for the civilian population in case an enemy miscalculation should ever trigger a nuclear war.

Immediately the debate broke out. People argued whether shelters could really protect against fallout, whether they would be valueless because everybody would already be dead from blast and fire, whether preoccupation with shelters was creating a war psychosis and diverting our efforts from winning the peace. Sincere and intelligent citizens lined up on both sides of these questions.

THE FACTS about fallout protection, as I know them, are these:

In the unlooked for and unlikely event of a nuclear attack on this country, fallout shelters could save tens of millions of lives through protecting those who survived the blast and heat effects in the target areas.

While fallout shelters would save American lives, no one has suggested how they could kill or harm a single enemy. Thus they can in no sense be considered as a threat to peace.

Our over-all national defense must include capacity to survive an enemy strike as well as to retaliate. Civil defense, based on a sound system of fallout shelters, increases this capability. It is as simple as that.

I cannot agree that emergency planning of this sort creates a "war psychosis." We have outgrown the superstition that buying life insurance is morbid. That flood control and tornado shelters show a preoccupation with disaster. Or that requiring lifeboats on our ships indicates we consider shipwreck to be inevitable.

PARTICULARLY, I cannot subscribe to the belief that providing "survival insurance" in the form of fallout shelters somehow dilutes our efforts to achieve a just and lasting peace — though it is to their credit that so many Americans are sincerely concerned with this question.

The facts of life are that in today's world, preparedness is part of the price of peace. We do not hold back from keeping our military defenses strong, even while we patiently negotiate to abolish both war and the means of war. Civil defense is no more than the shield in relation to the sword of military defense.

While the public debate has been stimulating, and altogether in the American tradition,meanwhile the work of developing a fallout shelter system has been moving ahead.

QUIETLY, without fanfare, teams of architects and engineers, trained in special courses set up by the Defense Department and directed by the Army Corps of Engineers and the Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks, have been doing about the country on a nationwide survey of available shelter space — on the sound principle of beginning with what we have.

Today we have collected a vast amount of data identifying space where between 50 and 60 million people can be sheltered in existing structures. Local government and local building owners will decide how much of this space will be put to use. Most of it should be used.

These shelter areas will now be marked and provisioned at federal expense with funds appropriated by the Congress last year.

It is characteristic of Americans that, while we may debate a subject with an intensity that sometimes puzzles our friends and may deceive our potential enemies, we have the basic good judgment to reach a common sense conclusion when we are given the facts.

ONLY ONE ELEMENT in this otherwise healthy controversy worries me.

A small minority — a very small minority, fortunately — has expressed the fear that the devastation of a nuclear war would be so terrible that they would rather die than face the "empty world" outside their shelter.

This philosophy is so repugnant to Americans, and so foreign to their heritage, that it almost requires no answer.

Even those who believe they would choose not to survive a nuclear attack, should ask themselves if they are entitled to make that choice for their children, or for their country.

There, I think, is our answer.

Letter To Editor

Monday afternoon, about 3:50, while driving to town from Glenmoor I came upon a sight that I hope never to see again.

In LaCroft, where a new traffic signal recently has been installed, there were two boys about 10 years old. One boy was standing on the right side of the road and the other boy was crawling on his hands and knees very slowly from right to left. Thinking the boy was hurt, I slowed down. But upon reaching the left side of the road, he turned around and started to crawl back to the right side. I nearly had to come to a complete stop to avoid hitting him. When he reached the right side he got up, they both laughed and walked away. I yelled to them that they shouldn't do that. They screamed something back to me, but I couldn't make out what they were saying.

If this is a new kind of "chicken" game, it is very dangerous. While driving, I am always on the lookout for children possibly dashing out in the street, but I never thought I would see them literally asking to be run over.

Spending Fallacy

By David Lawrence

Arms, Welfare Budgets Hinder Prosperity

Everybody, irrespective of party or faction, wants America to enjoy an era of prosperity, but if unsound counsel prevails at the White House and in Congress, the United States may experience in the next few years its deepest depression of this century.

David Lawrence

A dangerous doctrine has lately been warmed up from New Deal days and has been given respectability by advisers to President Kennedy. It is that spending by the federal government, even if it produces deficits, will somehow, by some magic of its own, produce an economic Utopia.

If spending were the solution to economic ills, then the United States should still be going through the most prosperous 45-year period in its history. The World War 1 spending reached a peak of nearly $20 billion in 1919. At the end of World War II, spending reached another peak — nearly $100 billion — in 1945.

The big war was over only five years when the Korean conflict sent federal spending upward to around $75 billion in 1953.

Instead of tapering off substantially after the Korean War, the spending during the cold war has kept on climbing, and this year is back up to around $90 billion.

The idea that mere spending of money produces prosperity is fallacious. It is the way the money is spent which counts — especially whether the funds are used in private investment for productive purposes that last beyond just a short-term period.

THE KEY is not how much is spent, but what the money is spent for. Defense money expended on weapons doesn't develop a high volume of transactions that percolate through the whole economy.

Private spending, on the other hand, usually is for goods that have a long-term value and that multiply the number of transactions in the business world.

A devastating rebuttal of the spending theory was made recently by Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier. He was chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers from 1957 through 1960, but his advice wasn't always followed.

In a speech on June 18 before the Babson Institute of Business Administration, he said in part:

"What recent history tells us about the effect of increases in federal spending is not very favorable to the view that an economy such as ours can spend itself into prosperity via the federal budget . . .

"What this experience tells us is that, if the environment is not favorable to an increase in private spending, an increase in federal spending, even a large increase, is a well-nigh futile exercise. . . .

"In the first four months of this calendar year, the cash budget of the United States ran a deficit of close to $10 billion, on a seasonally adjusted annual-rate basis. In the comparable four months of the 1958-59 recovery, the federal cash budget showed a surplus of $4.6 billion, on an annual-rate basis.

"Yet the unemployment rate has actually been somewhat higher under the recent deficit than it was under the earlier surplus. There were clouds on the economic horizon in those months of surplus in 1960, but it must be conceded that the economc sky in 1962, under very large deficits, is far from entirely clear."

DR. SAULNIER said pointedly that to those "who regard budgetary deficits as a more or less guaranteed formula for producing a brisk recovery, the present cycle must be a veritable nightmare." He argued bluntly that tax reductions will not by themselves furnish a remedy. He added:

"If there is a need to cut taxes in the expansion phase of a cycle, when we already have a large deficit, then there is equally a need to consider whether we are now spending too much money on programs that make no contribution whatever to our capacity for growth and to consider whether we are doing other things, entirely outside of the tax field, that are tending to suppress private investment spending.

"If this is what we are doing, and I think it is, then we cannot retrieve the situation with governmental red ink, and very few really sophisticated people will believe that we can."

THIS IS a period of self-examination, and it is becoming clearer every day that across-the-board tax cuts or simplified tax rules on depreciation or other artificial measures will not and cannot of themselves do as much good for the economy as can a healthy reduction in unproductive expenditures for armament and an avoidance of excessive spending for social welfare programs that the national economy at this time cannot really afford.

Celebrezze Cautious

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Anthony J. Celebrezze, Cleveland's five-time mayor and President Kennedy's choice for secretary of welfare, sounds cautious, like his Cabinet predecessor, Abraham A. Ribicoff.

But Celebrezze faces a lot of unfinished business that falls into three main fields: federal aid to education, medical care for the aged, and running the huge Department of Health, Education and Welfare with its 70,000 employes.

This 51-year-old lawyer, a strong advocate of civil rights but with a conservative record as mayor, is considered a liberal in Cleveland. He is also an excellent politician, as his five mayoral victories show.

Kennedy associates said a key factor in picking Celebrezze was his reputation as a good administrator.

Celebrezze must have been guided by his caution or his political sense Staurday when, shortly after Kennedy picked him as a member of the Cabinet, reporters asked him his views on the medical care program.

He didn't answer. He said he expected to discuss this with Kennedy and Ribicoff in Washington. This won't make any enemies for him in the Senate, which is expected to confirm him quickly.

Ribicoff, a 52-year-old lawyer who quit the cabinet last Thursday and was then nominated by Connecticut Democrats to run for the Senate, was asked his views on medical care as Kennedy appointed him secretary in 1961 but before the Senate acted on his nomination.

Ribicoff, who has called himself a middle-of-the-roader, didn't make any enemies for himself, either.

He was quoted by the Washington Star as saying, "It's a very interesting thing that a careful, thoughtful analysis of the varying positions on the health-care question indicates that some of these groups are not as far apart as they think they are."

That must have been news to groups like the American Medical Association, the AFL-CIO and even the Kennedy administration, which were miles apart on the kind of medical care plan Kennedy had in mind.

Ribicoff was a compromiser—he has been quoted as saying he has a weakness for the "integrity of compromise"—and was willing to compromise on Kennedy's medical care and federal aid to education programs.

Jut how much of a compromiser Celebrezze is remains to be shown. But Ribicoff could hardly claim distinction for any fighting he may have done for Kennedy's medical care plan.

The medical care bill before the Senate is a greatly watered-down version of what Kennedy asked for. Even if it passes the Senate, it's doubtful the more conservative House will approve.

If it doesn't, Celebrezze will have it on his hands in 1963 or 1964. For Kennedy, who is expected to run again in 1964, can hardly afford to let it die unaided. It was his baby to begin with.

Kennedy's plan of federal aid to education—with none of it going to Roman Catholic schools—is already gathering dust.

The President, a Catholic, offered it in 1961. But it was vigorously attacked by leaders of the Catholic Church, and it got a mixed reception in Congress.

There it lies, dead for this session. No one is even talking of doing anything about it before Congress quits for 1962. Kennedy could let it stay dead for the next two years, too.

If he does it will be another failure his critics can point to in the 1964 campaign, although it's such a sore issue he may think it politically wiser to forget about, at least until after 1964.

If, however, he tries to push it next year, Celebrezze will have to get involved in that also. Celebrezze is a Catholic but if he has taken a stand on Kennedy's federal aid to education program, this writer doesn't know it.

Medicare Issue Fizzled Out

The Kennedy administration's "medicare" proposal has flopped in this session of Congress, as we felt sure it would.

It was our belief that the politicians would goad the medical profession into a state of near-hysteria over this proposal, then leave the doctors high and dry for the 1962 congressional elections.

What the politicians wanted, we felt sure, was the issue of medical care for this year's congressional elections. They did not want "medicare" to pass until they had squeezed the votes out of it.

With this in mind, we suggested that doctors do everything in their power not to accommodate the opposition in a game doctors weren't skilled at playing. Needless to say, the doctors and their friends did not react to this favorably.

They may have been right in putting up a strenuous fight. Perhaps they can regard it as practice for the fight they may have to put up in the next Congress, when politicians favoring some version of the Kennedy "medicare" proposal will go to work in earnest.

AFTER THEIR setback in the Senate Tuesday, some of the politicians may be having second thoughts about the political appeal of this issue. They always knew it wasn't going to rally enough votes in the House to come close to passing, but they thought it had an outside chance in the Senate. As such things go, it never had a chance there either—not on a 54-48 turndown at the climax.

This may destroy it as a political issue.

The way it turned out, most Americans rallied to their doctors instead of to "medicare." This doesn't mean there isn't still a problem of paying the sickness bills of the elderly. It does mean that there's no demonstrable political mileage in a hassle over what most doctors insist would have been an entering wedge for socialized medicine.

That point of view pretty well dead-ends any possibility of public intervention to cushion sickness costs for elderly Americans who run short of money in their twilight years.

The alternative is a vast extension of what is in being now—more insurance setups to cover medical care costs that mount to ruinous levels.

IT IS TRAGIC that the main source of the high cost of sickness is not the cost of keeping a doctor on the job but the cost of keeping a patient in a hospital. Yet it's doctors who get blamed and it seems as if they go out of their way to set themselves up as targets.

What aging citizens of the United States are interested in isn't socialized medicine but a way of paying their sickness bills if they haven't been able to set aside enough to cover all exigencies.

They aren't interested in socializing medicine, even if some politicians are.

They aren't interested in contributing to any federal snafu.

They're interested solely in what has become a worrisome problem for millions who haven't much left to look forward to but maintaining solvency during their declining years.

IT WAS OUR opinion at the beginning of the medical care debate early this year that none of the proposals was worthy of the grave problem that confronted aging Americans.

Out of that grew the conviction that the doctors shouldn't let themselves be marched into a sham battle with politicians.

The "medicare" issue now is dead as far as legislation is concerned. Whether it's dead as far as votes in next November's election are concerned is problematic.

We suspect it was killed Tuesday afternoon in the U.S. Senate.

Treat All Alike

Each time raids are staged on taverns in Hancock County cries can be heard from the self - styled "little fellows" as to why so many of the "big fellows" are left alone.

While not defending them, it is easy to understand the feeling of the "little fellows".

Angry thoughts of favoritism on behalf of the "big fellows", bitter expressions against county bossism and other feelings of disgust must run through their minds when they are made targets of a raid and others are not.

The only fair answer to the whole thing would seem to be for the raiders and the courts to play no favorites — hit the "big fellows" and the "little fellows" alike and shut them all down when the occasion demands. And a look at the records would show that such action would be more than justified in many, many cases.

Berlin Serves A Purpose

It is time again to worry about Berlin.

President Kennedy and Chairman Khrushchev are squaring off on the perennial issue of whether the United States and the Western Allies have a right to occupy this enclave inside East Germany.

Actually, there's no issue. The Western Allies have every right there is to be there. Chairman Khrushchev and his advisers know this. Yet they reopen the issue of Berlin periodically. Why?

If the reason were looked at from their point of view it would be clearer. Berlin to them is invaluable as a means of keeping the Western Allies in an uproar. It is invaluable as a means of keeping the non-Communist world in a state of anxiety.

It can be turned on and off like a recording. It isn't remote and awkward like Laos, the Congo and other distance places where districtions have been made to occur from time to time. Neither is it necessary to build up Berlin's nuisance value each time with publicity and diplomatic maneuver.

At any given moment, the premier of the Soviet Union can say something ominous about Berlin and within 24 hours the Western World will be in a state of anxiety. News commentators will untie their Berlin files. People who had been worrying about Algeria, Quemoy, Matsu, the Congo, Latin America, Mexico, the Macmillan Cabinet shakeup in Britain, or Ban-the-Bomb pickets will worry about Berlin instead.

As can be said about so many things in this world, if Berlin didn't exist Khrushchev and the Russians would have to invent it to keep the Western Allies off stride. Without Berlin to upset them they might learn to stride in unison.

The city serves a purpose for the Soviet Union. The fact it also serves a purpose for the Western Allies must always be remembered too. We use it to bother the Communists almost as systematically as the Communists use it to bother us.

Monday afternoon, about 3:50, while driving to town from Glenmoor I came upon a sight that I hope never to see again.

In LaCroft, where a new traffic signal recently has been installed, there were two boys about 10 years old. One boy was standing on the right side of the road and the other boy was crawling on his hands and knees very slowly from right to left. Thinking the boy was hurt, I slowed down. But upon reaching the left side of the road, he turned around and started to crawl back to the right side. I nearly had to come to a complete stop to avoid hitting him. When he reached the right side he got up, they both laughed and walked away. I yelled to them that they shouldn't do that. They screamed something back to me, but I couldn't make out what they were saying.

If this is a new kind of "chicken" game, it is very dangerous. While driving, I am always on the lookout for children possibly dashing out in the street, but I never thought I would see them literally asking to be run over.

Spending Fallacy

By David Lawrence

Arms, Welfare Budgets Hinder Prosperity

Everybody, irrespective of party or faction, wants America to enjoy an era of prosperity, but if unsound counsel prevails at the White House and in Congress, the United States may experience in the next few years its deepest depression of this century.

David Lawrence

A dangerous doctrine has lately been warmed up from New Deal days and has been given respectability by advisers to President Kennedy. It is that spending by the federal government, even if it produces deficits, will somehow, by some magic of its own, produce an economic Utopia.

If spending were the solution to economic ills, then the United States should still be going through the most prosperous 45-year period in its history. The World War 1 spending reached a peak of nearly $20 billion in 1919. At the end of World War II, spending reached another peak — nearly $100 billion — in 1945.

The big war was over only five years when the Korean conflict sent federal spending upward to around $75 billion in 1953.

Instead of tapering off substantially after the Korean War, the spending during the cold war has kept on climbing, and this year is back up to around $90 billion.

The idea that mere spending of money produces prosperity is fallacious. It is the way the money is spent which counts — especially whether the funds are used in private investment for productive purposes that last beyond just a short-term period.

THE KEY is not how much is spent, but what the money is spent for. Defense money expended on weapons doesn't develop a high volume of transactions that percolate through the whole economy.

Private spending, on the other hand, usually is for goods that have a long-term value and that multiply the number of transactions in the business world.

A devastating rebuttal of the spending theory was made recently by Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier. He was chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers from 1957 through 1960, but his advice wasn't always followed.

In a speech on June 18 before the Babson Institute of Business Administration, he said in part:

"What recent history tells us about the effect of increases in federal spending is not very favorable to the view that an economy such as ours can spend itself into prosperity via the federal budget . . .

"What this experience tells us is that, if the environment is not favorable to an increase in private spending, an increase in federal spending, even a large increase, is a well-nigh futile exercise. . . .

"In the first four months of this calendar year, the cash budget of the United States ran a deficit of close to $10 billion, on a seasonally adjusted annual-rate basis. In the comparable four months of the 1958-59 recovery, the federal cash budget showed a surplus of $4.6 billion, on an annual-rate basis.

"Yet the unemployment rate has actually been somewhat higher under the recent deficit than it was under the earlier surplus. There were clouds on the economic horizon in those months of surplus in 1960, but it must be conceded that the economc sky in 1962, under very large deficits, is far from entirely clear."

DR. SAULNIER said pointedly that to those "who regard budgetary deficits as a more or less guaranteed formula for producing a brisk recovery, the present cycle must be a veritable nightmare." He argued bluntly that tax reductions will not by themselves furnish a remedy. He added:

"If there is a need to cut taxes in the expansion phase of a cycle, when we already have a large deficit, then there is equally a need to consider whether we are now spending too much money on programs that make no contribution whatever to our capacity for growth and to consider whether we are doing other things, entirely outside of the tax field, that are tending to suppress private investment spending.

"If this is what we are doing, and I think it is, then we cannot retrieve the situation with governmental red ink, and very few really sophisticated people will believe that we can."

THIS IS a period of self-examination, and it is becoming clearer every day that across-the-board tax cuts or simplified tax rules on depreciation or other artificial measures will not and cannot of themselves do as much good for the economy as can a healthy reduction in unproductive expenditures for armament and an avoidance of excessive spending for social welfare programs that the national economy at this time cannot really afford.

Celebrezze Cautious

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Anthony J. Celebrezze, Cleveland's five-time mayor and President Kennedy's choice for secretary of welfare, sounds cautious, like his Cabinet predecessor, Abraham A. Ribicoff.

But Celebrezze faces a lot of unfinished business that falls into three main fields: federal aid to education, medical care for the aged, and running the huge Department of Health, Education and Welfare with its 70,000 employes.

This 51-year-old lawyer, a strong advocate of civil rights but with a conservative record as mayor, is considered a liberal in Cleveland. He is also an excellent politician, as his five mayoral victories show.

Kennedy associates said a key factor in picking Celebrezze was his reputation as a good administrator.

Celebrezze must have been guided by his caution or his political sense Staurday when, shortly after Kennedy picked him as a member of the Cabinet, reporters asked him his views on the medical care program.

He didn't answer. He said he expected to discuss this with Kennedy and Ribicoff in Washington. This won't make any enemies for him in the Senate, which is expected to confirm him quickly.

Ribicoff, a 52-year-old lawyer who quit the cabinet last Thursday and was then nominated by Connecticut Democrats to run for the Senate, was asked his views on medical care as Kennedy appointed him secretary in 1961 but before the Senate acted on his nomination.

Ribicoff, who has called himself a middle-of-the-roader, didn't make any enemies for himself, either.

He was quoted by the Washington Star as saying, "It's a very interesting thing that a careful, thoughtful analysis of the varying positions on the health-care question indicates that some of these groups are not as far apart as they think they are."

That must have been news to groups like the American Medical Association, the AFL-CIO and even the Kennedy administration, which were miles apart on the kind of medical care plan Kennedy had in mind.

Ribicoff was a compromiser—he has been quoted as saying he has a weakness for the "integrity of compromise"—and was willing to compromise on Kennedy's medical care and federal aid to education programs.

Jut how much of a compromiser Celebrezze is remains to be shown. But Ribicoff could hardly claim distinction for any fighting he may have done for Kennedy's medical care plan.

The medical care bill before the Senate is a greatly watered-down version of what Kennedy asked for. Even if it passes the Senate, it's doubtful the more conservative House will approve.

If it doesn't, Celebrezze will have it on his hands in 1963 or 1964. For Kennedy, who is expected to run again in 1964, can hardly afford to let it die unaided. It was his baby to begin with.

Kennedy's plan of federal aid to education—with none of it going to Roman Catholic schools—is already gathering dust.

The President, a Catholic, offered it in 1961. But it was vigorously attacked by leaders of the Catholic Church, and it got a mixed reception in Congress.

There it lies, dead for this session. No one is even talking of doing anything about it before Congress quits for 1962. Kennedy could let it stay dead for the next two years, too.

If he does it will be another failure his critics can point to in the 1964 campaign, although it's such a sore issue he may think it politically wiser to forget about, at least until after 1964.

If, however, he tries to push it next year, Celebrezze will have to get involved in that also. Celebrezze is a Catholic but if he has taken a stand on Kennedy's federal aid to education program, this writer doesn't know it.

Support Strong In NWR Bid To Acquire Railroad In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strong support has been expressed before an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner of the Norfolk and Western Railway's proposal to gain control of the Akron, Canton, and Youngstown Railroad.

Favoring the move at the opening of a hearing before examiner Lester R. Conley Wednesday were a string of witnesses from three railroads and six manufacturing firms.

H. B. Stewart Jr., president of the AC&Y and son of its founder, called the N&W's proposal to acquire all outstanding AC&Y stock for $6.5 million "a good three-way transaction — not only an excellent one for the public but likewise a fine one for AC&Y stockholders."

Other witnesses included John J. Fitzpatrick, traffic vice president of the Nickel Plate Road who said acquisition of the stock by the N&W would put the AC&Y in better position to compete for traffic with truck and other modes of transportation.

The only formal opposition raised thus far has been from the Railway Labor Executives Association. But that group and the N&W already have agreed on job protection aspects if the consolidation is approved.

Also testifying in support of the proposal were officials of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., B.F. Goodrich Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., General Tire and Rubber Co., Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., and National Lime and Stone Co.

New Plea Again Blocks Rules On Nursing Homes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An appeal filed in Franklin County Common Pleas Court has blocked for the second time new rules and regulations covering Ohio's nursing homes.

Filing the appeal Wednesday was Delbert Dehaas of Uniontown on behalf of the Ohio State Federation of Licensed Nursing Homes of which he is president.

The federation's appeal resulted from rules adopted July 7 by the Ohio Public Health Council. The federation contended as it did when the council adopted new regulations in October 1960, that they were designed to put small nursing home operators out of business.

The 1960 rules, nullified when th latest set was adopted, were thwarted through legal action by nursing home operators.

Principal among the operators' objections are rules requiring more space for patients and personnel training.

Wednesday's appeal was on grounds that the health council adopted the regulations illegally by not following all the steps required in the Administrative Procedures Act. There was no indication when the court will rule on the appeal.

Discharged were Howard Brame, Steve Luketich and Mrs. Pauline Vukelich, all of Midland, and James Day of Industry.

Chaplain Reappointed To Post With K. Of C.

Fr. John P. Cunningham, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, has been re-appointed faithful friar (chaplain) of Cardinal Mercier Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, by Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of Youngstown.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the assembly Wednesday evening in the Wellsville K. of C. home, when Joseph O'Hanlon, newly-elected faithful navigator, assumed his duties.

Various committee appointments are being considered and will be announced soon, O'Hanlon said.

An officers' planning meeting will be called by the new faithful navigator prior to the next regular meeting Aug. 15.

Carl Graham said: "Todd's work is good, but the cost is outrageous."

Cost May Be Cut

Hissam said he felt the costs were elevated to obtain a higher federal grant, adding he believes the costs will be cut back.

Councilman Don Chaney said: "When you buy something, you try to get a better price for your money, and the same applies to sewage plants."

Chaney added he did not think the city owes Magnus anything.

Graham said if the city is obligated financially to Todd and Magnus, "we may as well use them." Harry Lameier of the Magnus firm told Council Monday he has made many trips to Chester on the project, and considerable time and paper work has been involved. Lameier said two other engineering firms besides Todd did partial surveys in the 1950's, adding Magnus has not received any money to date.

Court Action Cited

Graham said if the issue is taken to court the matter "may drag on for years."

However, Kology made the motion to notify the two firms the agreements are declared void and Chaney seconded. They were joined in passing the measure by Graham and Councilman Wayne Hutton.

Council also approved a motion to notify the U.S. Public Facilities Commission of the ruling by the solicitor and the action taken regarding the contracts.

Council took no immediate action on recommendations filed by the water and sewer committee through Hutton, chairman.

The recommendations included:

Proposals Listed

1. Delinquent water customers be given a 5-day notice by registered mail that water service will be discontinued if bills are not paid.

2. About 800 water meters be purchased to complete metering of the city if an adequate financing plan can be arranged. Otherwise, all customers are to be placed on a flat rate basis.

3. To obtain additional clerical help for Earl Wilson, water works clerk, or provide for a salary increase, since he performs duties at the City Hall other than regular clerical work and is to expand his bookkeeping to a double entry system under order of the Public Service Commission.

A discussion was held on a report from Graham, street committee chairman, regarding complaints of a one-way section of 2nd St. Graham said the signs at the section — where many motorists have been cited for traveling the wrong way in recent months — should be re-located. He said the matter was called to his attention by Mayor Harry Abrams.

Hot-Rodders Curbed

Kology said the street was made one-way to prevent "hot rodders speeding up the hill and damaging the street surface." He and Graham said many motorists drive half-way up the street before they realize the restriction.

Graham said the street committee is to study the matter.

The street committee was authorized by Council to negotiate the sale of sewer cleaning equipment for not less than $1,800. The equipment was purchased a few years ago for $4,600 and has been used only once or twice since.

Council approved a motion by Hutton to pay Frank Fetty, new city patrolman, $1.50 an hour for the 49 hours work in police duty he performed prior to Sunday, when his salary began with his term of office.

Permission was granted to the First Christian Church to remove all curbing along Indiana Ave. at the church and replace it with new curbing. The request was made by Hubert Myers, street commissioner.

Jerrold Wilson, Chester firemen, invited city officials to take part in the annual firemen's fair July 30-Aug. 4.

Fete Nets $110

HAMMONDSVILLE—Mrs. Shirley Carnahan announced $110 was netted in a festival held for the New Somerset Methodist Church July 11. The proceeds will be used for addition of Sunday School class rooms to the church, Mrs. Carnahan, fund treasurer, said.

who signed the petitions called and asked him what is going on.

A discussion was held on whether or not the cost of $250,000, as cited in one section of the petitions as the cost for the building and land, would be sufficient. The discussion led off into various tangents at times.

Mayor William Daugherty urged Council and those in the audience to keep on "the right track."

THE MAYOR said the original request was for Council to take the necessary steps to allow the citizens to vote "yes" or "no" on the proposal of constructing a combination building.

Baldwin once commented those who signed the petitions would turn the issue down.

Bernard Ferrance commented from the audience that the petitions "are a fraud in a way" because Council is not taking away the residents' right to vote. The proposal is on a combination building, which is what Council has rejected, he commented.

Miller, before making his motion, commented there are a lot of "hidden figures" which have not been presented to Council. He asked: "Will the same people favoring this issue be in favor of a city income tax if it is needed?"

He said he did not receive the figures on costs of construction, obtaining the necessary property and furnishing the proposed building until about five weeks ago.

—:—

MRS. RAHTER said the figures were revealed by the mayor at a meeting some time ago at her home when all members were present. She said no one asked any questions at that time.

Miller differed with her, commenting the mayor left early, explaining he had another meeting to attend.

E. L. Pemis commented from the audience that he did not believe the $250,000 would be sufficient to construct such a building. Another man commented "it is just what the city needs," pointing out the rental received from the Post Office Department will help pay for the construction.

The initiative petitions said the bonds necessary would be payable in annual installments for 20 years at an estimated 4 per cent annual interest.

MILLER and Baldwin had to leave about 1:45 p. m. for work. Council continued a brief session afterward, with only a few minor items considered. Several persons in the audience were conferring among themselves inside and outside the chambers, creating confusion.

Those circulating the petitions commented they will submit them to the Election Board if Council does not proceed with its action

Mrs. Drago and DeLonzo commented they will vote for the resolution to place the measure on the ballot. DeLonzo said he would not fight the issue any further.

If Baldwin favors the move, it can be passed under suspension of rules at one meeting. If not, three separate readings would be required.

To Serve Ohioville

Midland Pledges New Water Line

The Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday night voted to extend a water main to the borough line, estimated to cost $25,000, to provide water at the request of Ohioville Borough.

The authority also began discussion on acquiring off - street parking lots, as requested recently by Borough Council.

In the Ohioville project, the authority approved the line on a motion by Rudolph Presutti providing Ohioville purchases water from Midland only, as stated in a letter from Daniel Baker, chairman of the Ohioville Water Authority.

A letter from Baker said Ohioville will have 300 to 400 users immediately. Since the borough plans to use Midland's water only, the borough requested that Midland extend a line from the Midland Heights reservoir to the borough line for Ohioville to hook onto and extend to prospective users.

Baker said construction of Ohioville lines should start in 60 days.

DR. ZANVEL SIGAL, chairman of the Midland authority, said talks with the other authority will be set up and an agreement will be made. Granville Kester, Midland authority engineer from Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, will draw up a feasibility report in order for Midland to borrow money to construct the line.

Kester said Midland first needs to know what plan Ohioville has for the water system there.

Councilmen Louis Poff and Tony Perotto of Ohioville attended the meeting to learn Midland's intentions. Sigal said water has been available to the borough all along. He said the authority's action shows Midland wants to be a good neighbor.

The water situation in Ohioville was reported serious, with some wells dry. The proposed line would be about 4,000 feet long.

CONCERNING off-street parking lots, Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor for Council and the authority, said Council has asked the authority to get parking lots immediately and expects a report by next Thursday. He suggested the appointment of a committee and start of action to buy property.

Presutti said a report by Michael Baker for Council was studied by a council committee, headed by Councilman Lester Trainer, and turned over to the authority with recommendations.

He said three metered lots are recommended, one in the 7th and 8th St. area and two in the 6th and 7th Sts. area and free parking in a lot in the west end of the borough for residents there and one on Ohio Ave. between 4th and 5th St.

Dr. Sigal appointed all members of the authority as a committee for the parking lots and appointed Leslie B. Roach, chairman, to report to Council next Thursday. Sigal expects to be out of town several days.

KESTER was asked to work with the authority to prepare a feasibility report in order for the authority to borrow money.

Kester reported that bids will be opened Aug. 15 at an authority meeting for a new high-service pump to be installed at the water department building on Railroad Ave.

The estimated cost of the new pump and electrical service is $21,000. The water plant now is running over its rated capacity of 3 million gallons a day.

It now pumps up to 3.2 million a day and when the new pump is added with present ones, the capacity will be raised to 4 million gallon a day. In May, the plant pumped 93,270,000 gallons which dropped in June to 85,676,000.

Donald Craik, manager, told the authority that the water plant is up to its capacity and two more filters should be added now. He said the plant could do without a coagulation basin for awhile.

—:—

HE SAID the new pump and two filters also are necessary since the authority plans to sell water to Ohioville.

On a motion by Roach, the authority hired Kester to make a study and design a grit chamber for the sewage treatment plant.

Sigal asked R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, and also engineer for the authority, about Council's plans for the grit chamber. He said Council first wants to know the condition of grit at the plant after several storm sewers are taken off the sanitary system.

Steebner said the State Highway Department has already given him a permit to go ahead with the sewer change but he has not had time to draw up the plans. He agreed with Kester, whose firm earlier recommended the chamber, that the plant would need it in the future.

ON A MOTION by Presutti, the authority agreed to hire Higgins & Co. of Pittsburgh at a cost of $54 to make a study of the cost to the authority to have its employes under the state's municipal employes retirement program. Presutti reported on talks he and Atty. Masters attended with a state representative of the program.

A letter was read from the Midland Board of Education granting the authority permission to install a small hydrant at 7th St. School for flooding of the basketball court for ice skating in the winter.

Craik, manager, was given permission to attend a water and sewage operators' convention Aug. 6-10 at University Park.

Bills of $42,259.46, including a transfer of $15,000 to another fund, for the water department, and $2,482.62 for the sewage disposal plant, were ordered paid.

An 11-year-old city girl hurt in a fall from a tree was admitted Wednesday night to City Hospital, where eight district adults and youngsters were treated after separate mishaps yesterday and released.

Karen Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simpson, 830 Chester Ave., suffered a possible fracture of the left shoulder in a fall from a tree at the home of a neighborhood playmate. She is in "fair" condition.

Mrs. Margaret Pierce, 460 Mulberry St., was treated for a dog bite of the left lower leg last night.

Mrs. Minnie Newlen of Kountz Ave., Wellsville, suffered contusions and abrasions of the left hand which became caught in a washing machine wringer.

George Giles, 58, of 440 14th St., Wellsville, was treated for a sprain of the left wrist and hand suffered in a fall from a ladder while at work for the Globe Brick Co.

Others treated were Charles Schmidt, 18, of Hookstown R.D. 1, who received an elbow injury while playing baseball at Midland; Thomas Horton, 3, son of Charles Horton, 417 Gaston Pl., who suffered a head injury in a fall down steps onto concrete at home.

Roxanne Downard, 3, daughter of Paul Downard of Irondale R.D. 1, who received a cut upper lip in a fall at home; Robert Means, 12, son of Ira Means of the Y. & O. Rd., who suffered a cut left leg while playing with a hatchet, and Steve Halliday, 2, son of Steve Halliday of MC Route 22, who received bruises and abrasions of the nose and lips in a fall at home.

Fund Events Set For CAP Group

Plans for two fund-raising projects were outlined by the area Civil Air Patrol unit at a business session Wednesday night at Swaney Airport.

A car wash will be held all day Saturday, July 28, at 8th St. and Riverside Ave., Wellsville. During the next two weeks, the members will sell small fire extinguishers suitable for use in the home or a car. A house-to-house canvass will be held in Wellsville.

Ten cadets and five senior members attended. Warrant Officer Gus Lardis of Steubenville was a guest. A drill session was held at Daw Junior High School in Wellsville before the unit went to the airport. They inspected various types of planes at the airport.

The unit will march in parades at Newell, Highlandtown and Chester. Three members have signed to attend a summer encampment Aug. 18-26 at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton. More are expected.

A drill practice will be held next Wednesday at 6 p. m. at the school, followed by a business session at 7.

Grange Fair Dates Listed

The Hookstown Grange has announced its 16th annual free fair will be held Aug. 22-25 at the Grange Fairgrounds on Route 168 between Route 30 and Hookstown.

Entry to the grounds will be free. The Fair Board includes Charles Hartzell, chairman, Thomas Glenn, vice chairman, Harry Shane, secretary, and Richard Lyon, treasurer.

Other board members are Chester Elliott, John Laughlin, Raymond Searight and Charles Stewart.

The fair will have free entertainment each day and on Saturday evening there will be an amateur talent contest. There also will be tractor, pony and horse-pulling.

A main attraction will be the Beaver County 4-H dairy cattle roundup, when 4-H members from all over the county will show cattle.

Amusements will be provided by Frankie's Rides of Washington, Pa. There will be homecooked meals served in the Grange dining room. There will also be refreshment stands, operated by area organizations, which will serve lunches on the grounds.

Dairy Store Burglars Take $150 In Change

Burglars who broke into Callas' Dairy Store in Newell sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday took $150 in change, a case of coffee and $25 worth of cigarettes, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

Entry was gained by smashing a hole in a rear door and opening the latch. The entry was reported to Hancock County sheriff's deputies Wednesday at 8:58 a. m., a half-hour after the store was opened by George Callas, the owner.

Deputies are continuing an investigation. They said the store was also entered in June when a large amount of groceries was stolen.

To Serve Ohioville

Midland Pledges New Water Line

The Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday night voted to extend a water main to the borough line, estimated to cost $25,000, to provide water at the request of Ohioville Borough.

The authority also began discussion on acquiring off - street parking lots, as requested recently by Borough Council.

In the Ohioville project, the authority approved the line on a motion by Rudolph Presutti providing Ohioville purchases water from Midland only, as stated in a letter from Daniel Baker, chairman of the Ohioville Water Authority.

A letter from Baker said Ohioville will have 300 to 400 users immediately. Since the borough plans to use Midland's water only, the borough requested that Midland extend a line from the Midland Heights reservoir to the borough line for Ohioville to hook onto and extend to prospective users.

Baker said construction of Ohioville lines should start in 60 days.

DR. ZANVEL SIGAL, chairman of the Midland authority, said talks with the other authority will be set up and an agreement will be made. Granville Kester, Midland authority engineer from Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, will draw up a feasibility report in order for Midland to borrow money to construct the line.

Kester said Midland first needs to know what plan Ohioville has for the water system there.

Councilmen Louis Poff and Tony Perotto of Ohioville attended the meeting to learn Midland's intentions. Sigal said water has been available to the borough all along. He said the authority's action shows Midland wants to be a good neighbor.

The water situation in Ohioville was reported serious, with some wells dry. The proposed line would be about 4,000 feet long.

CONCERNING off-street parking lots, Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor for Council and the authority, said Council has asked the authority to get parking lots immediately and expects a report by next Thursday. He suggested the appointment of a committee and start of action to buy property.

Presutti said a report by Michael Baker for Council was studied by a council committee, headed by Councilman Lester Trainer, and turned over to the authority with recommendations.

He said three metered lots are recommended, one in the 7th and 8th St. area and two in the 6th and 7th Sts. area and free parking in a lot in the west end of the borough for residents there and one on Ohio Ave. between 4th and 5th St.

Dr. Sigal appointed all members of the authority as a committee for the parking lots and appointed Leslie B. Roach, chairman, to report to Council next Thursday. Sigal expects to be out of town several days.

KESTER was asked to work with the authority to prepare a feasibility report in order for the authority to borrow money.

Kester reported that bids will be opened Aug. 15 at an authority meeting for a new high-service pump to be installed at the water department building on Railroad Ave.

The estimated cost of the new pump and electrical service is $21,000. The water plant now is running over its rated capacity of 3 million gallons a day.

It now pumps up to 3.2 million a day and when the new pump is added with present ones, the capacity will be raised to 4 million gallon a day. In May, the plant pumped 93,270,000 gallons which dropped in June to 85,676,000.

Donald Craik, manager, told the authority that the water plant is up to its capacity and two more filters should be added now. He said the plant could do without a coagulation basin for awhile.

—:—

HE SAID the new pump and two filters also are necessary since the authority plans to sell water to Ohioville.

On a motion by Roach, the authority hired Kester to make a study and design a grit chamber for the sewage treatment plant.

Sigal asked R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, and also engineer for the authority, about Council's plans for the grit chamber. He said Council first wants to know the condition of grit at the plant after several storm sewers are taken off the sanitary system.

Steebner said the State Highway Department has already given him a permit to go ahead with the sewer change but he has not had time to draw up the plans. He agreed with Kester, whose firm earlier recommended the chamber, that the plant would need it in the future.

ON A MOTION by Presutti, the authority agreed to hire Higgins & Co. of Pittsburgh at a cost of $54 to make a study of the cost to the authority to have its employes under the state's municipal employes retirement program. Presutti reported on talks he and Atty. Masters attended with a state representative of the program.

A letter was read from the Midland Board of Education granting the authority permission to install a small hydrant at 7th St. School for flooding of the basketball court for ice skating in the winter.

Craik, manager, was given permission to attend a water and sewage operators' convention Aug. 6-10 at University Park.

Bills of $42,259.46, including a transfer of $15,000 to another fund, for the water department, and $2,482.62 for the sewage disposal plant, were ordered paid.

About 50 attended the meeting, at which Mrs. Mercedes Beatty of New Cumberland, district deputy president, was installing officer.

The new officers include Mrs. Maxine Burch, vice grand; Mrs. Mary Paisley, secretary; Mrs. Mabel Haney, treasurer; Mrs. Wilma LaScola, warden; Mrs. Patricia Staley, conductor; Mrs. McFarland, musician.

Mrs. Alice Yoho, color-bearer; Mrs. Helen Hobbs, right supporter to the noble grand; Mrs. Walton, left supporter to the noble grand; Mrs. Champion, right supporter to the vice grand; Mrs. Shingler, left supporter to the vice grand; Mrs. Hilda Allison, inside guardian, and Mrs. Lenora Price, outside guardian.

Visitors attended from East Liverpool, Newell and New Cumberland. Lunch was served by Mrs. Burch and her committee.

The group will meet Aug. 7.

Madrigal Singers Entertain At Lisbon Women's Meeting

The circles of the Lisbon First Presbyterian Church met at the church Tuesday evening for an association meeting with 84 present. The Mary and Esther Circles were hostesses.

Following the dessert, hymns were sung, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Graham Kearney and led by Mrs. Don Smith.

Business was conducted by the association president, Mrs. Paul T. Gerrard. The worship service and summer medical offering were in charge of Mrs. Richard Kennedy. Mrs. Floyd Baker, fellowship department chairman welcomed and introduced new members received into the church during the year and six June high school graduates.

Singers Listed

Mrs. Gregg Ramsey introduced the Madrigal Singers from the Lisbon Music Study Club, Mrs. Don Lewis, Mrs. Raymond Marlatt, Mrs. George Nulf, Miss Mary Lodge, Mrs. Kenneth Everett and Mrs. Edward Nold.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Kearney. The vocal selections presented were "In the Monih of Maying," "Old Woman" and "Three Hares."

Mrs. Guy Byers of Salem gave the second part of the program, a review of the book, "I Love You Honey, But the Season's Over."

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Seventeen members of the Cheerful Workers Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Homer McPherson of E. Lincoln Way.

LUNCH SERVED

A coverdish luncheon was served at noon and the afternoon was spent socially. Mrs. Mel Kelly told the group of her recent trip to Florida.

There will be no meeting in August. Tentative plans were made for an outing in September. Confirmation of plans will be announced later.

Members of the WCTU met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Lodge Thorne of S. Lincoln Ave. as hostess and Mrs. Jack Stockman, associate hostess.

Mrs. Frank Flugan, president, was in charge.

"Be Strong and of Good Courage" was the title of the devotions given by Mrs. Ernest Dillon. Mrs. Arnold Roberts led the program on "Effectual Actions".

Mrs. Lawrence McCormick of Leetonia Rd. will receive the group Aug. 21 for a noon picnic lunch.

Mrs. Sam Sowards, Miss Henrietta Chestnut and Mrs. Mary Kathryn Dailey have returned from a two-week vacation at Miami and Nassau.

Youngstown Man Sues Ohio Bell For $2 Million

CLEVELAND (AP) — Clarence Fullum, owner of a Youngstown trucking company, is suing the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for $2,050,000 in U.S. District Court.

He claims the company discontinued telephone service at 92 E. Myrtle St. in Youngstown June 13 "without justification or reasonable cause and refused to restore it."

Fullum's petition, filed Wednesday, charges he lost his reputation and the business of his Mahoning Valley Trucking Co. when his telephone service was cut off.

A spokesman for Ohio Bell said Fullum's telephone service was cut off at the request of the Youngstown police department, which claimed the telephone was being used for unlawful purposes.

The Ohio Bell spokesman said that under the company's state franchise service may be denied to customers when requested by law enforcement agents. He said the company received a letter from the Youngstown police June 8 and Fullum was notified immediately that his telephone would be disconnected June 13.

William R. Ellis, Youngstown attorney who filed the petition for Fullum, denied his client's telephone had been used for any unlawful purpose.

DiSalle To Hit Campaign Trail For Second Time

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle hit the campaign trail today for the second time this week.

His itinerary included stops in Madison, Champaign, Union, Logan and Hardin counties. He was to attend a luncheon at Marysville, a "Governor's Day" rally at Russells Point and a dinner at Kenton.

DiSalle was in his Statehouse office Wednesday after a two-day re-election campaign tour in Southern Ohio.

The governor answered a variety of questions at a news conference, one of them dealing with the Edythe Klumpp murder case. DiSalle told newsmen it appeared to him that any further inquiry into the highly-publicized case is stymied for the present.

DiSalle commuted the death sentence of the Cincinnati woman, convicted in the slaying of a love rival, 18 months ago, saying he was convinced of her innocence.

He said Wednesday: "Many of these things you can feel, but you have to have supporting evidence."

Police To File Charge After Lisbon Mishap

LISBON — Police said today they will charge Mrs. Shirley May Lee, 20, of W. Lincoln Way with driving alone on a temporary permit as the result of a collision about 4 p. m. Tuesday.

Officers said she was driving west on E. Washington St., struck the left rear of a parked car owned by Mrs. Helen Smallwood of the Salem Rd. and knocked it forward into a parked car owned by Atty. Richard Clark of East Liverpool.

The Lee and Smallwood autos were damaged extensively, police said. There was no apparent damage to Clark's car.

Deaths and Funerals

Bruce Dotson Claimed At 79

Bruce B. Dotson, 79, who at one time operated the former Golden Star Grocery and Delicatessen at 113 W. 6th St., died this morning at 7:15 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Anna Stewart, 724 Cain St., following a long illness.

Born in Parkersburg, he lived in this vicinity about 34 years. He retired in 1953. His wife, Mrs. Lena M. Dotson, died July 28, 1953.

He leaves two other daughters, Mrs. David (Pauline) Wilson of Whittier, Calif., and Mrs. Robert K. (Eileen) Connell of Alliance, nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

W. E. Savacool

Services for W. E. Savacool, 86, of Perkasie, Pa., father of Mrs. Edwin Maloney of Vine St., were held July 12 at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church at Perkasie. Burial was there.

Mr. Savacool died July 9 at the Grandview Hospital at Sellersville, Pa., following an illness of five months.

At one time he served as president of the bank of Perkasie. He was a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 1913. He was a 32nd Degree Mason.

He also leaves his widow, Mrs. Clara Savacool, at home; two other daughters, a son, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Leonard Barker

Leonard Barker, 51, of Aliquippa R. D. 2, a native of Zanesville, died Wednesday at 3 a. m. at the Aliquippa Hospital, after a long illness.

He was born Dec. 30, 1910, son of William Barker, now of Aliquippa R. D. 2, and the late Lillie Barker. He worked last at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. in Aliquippa.

He also is survived by his widow, Mrs. Wilma Barker, three daughters, Miss Frances Barker, Miss Mary Lou Barker, and Miss Christine Barker, and two sons, Leonard Barker and Walter Barker, all at home; three sisters, Mrs. Lillie Hughes of Monaca R. D., Mrs. Ella Hughes and Mrs. Audrey Osborne, both of Aliquippa R. D. 2, and two brothers, Raymond Barker of Mercer, Pa., and William Barker of Aliquippa R. D. 2.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown by Lt. Charles Hager of the Salvation Army in Rochester. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery, near Hookstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and evening.

Clarence Brown

Clarence Brown, 51, of rear 524 Washington St., Newell, an unemployed electrician, died suddenly of an apparent heart attack Wednesday about 12:10 p. m. at his home.

His only survivor is a sister, Mrs. Hazel Trautman of Bridgeport, Pa.

Services will be held Friday afternoon at the Wilson Funeral home in Bridgeport, with burial at the Weeks Cemetery there.

Arthur Hoover

Services for Arthur Earl Hoover, 51, of Fontana, Calif., a former resident of Salineville, were held this morning at 10 at the Draper Chapel in Ontario, Calif. Burial was in Bellevue Mausoleum there.

Mr. Hoover died Tuesday morning at 10:15 at a hospital at San Bernardino, Calif., following a long illness.

Mr. Hoover was born March 17, 1911, in Indiana. He formerly was employed at the Kaiser Steel Co. at Fontana. He was a resident of Fontana three years and also lived in nearby Ontario for several years.

He leaves his father, ZeLotus Hoover, of Salineville; two daughters, Miss Donna Jean Hoover and Miss Kay Marie Hoover, both of Montclair, Calif., two sons, Earl Donald Hoover of Ontario and Arthur Wayne Hoover of Montclair; three sisters, Mrs. Irma Dennis of Salineville, Mrs. Nellie Tackett of Hesperia, Calif., and Mrs. Mable Green of Steubenville; a brother, Lotus D. Hoover of Highlandtown, and one grandchild.

Mrs. Charles Kale

EAST PALESTINE — Services will be held Friday for Mrs. Ora Blanche Kale, 85, of Enon Valley, who died Wednesday at the home of a son, Byron Kale, 217 South St., with whom she had stayed the past six weeks while ill.

She was born at Fallston, Pa., Jan. 18, 1877, daughter of James and Margaret Kelty Degarmo, and was married in 1900 to Charles Kale. She was a member of the Enon Valley Christian Church.

Survivors include her husband, son, three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 at the VanDyke Funeral Home by the Rev. Robert Dyke, a minister of the Christian Church. Burial will be in Little Beaver Cemetery at Enon Valley.

Friends may call tonight.

Water Line Repaired After Avondale Break

Water service was restored to some 20 Avondale St. homes this morning about three hours after a break was discovered in a four-inch main, Donald T. Duke, water department superintendent, said.

Duke said the break was found about 6:30 a. m. and crews installed a repair clamp to close the break and enable service to be restored to the homes between Bank and Minerva Sts.

The break in the main was about halfway between the two streets, he added.

Milwaukee Man Dies After Beaver Mishap

BEAVER FALLS — Oscar Seiler, 69 of Milwaukee, Wis., died at Providence Hospital about 10:15 p. m. Wednesday after he was struck by a car driven by a Beaver Falls motorist at 9:40 on Route 18 in Homewood Borough, two miles north of here.

The driver, Jeffrey Conner, 19, was not held. The Chippewa Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said Mr. Seiler, wearing dark clothes, had left his car in a parking lot at the Conley Motel and started across the road to a restaurant when he was hit.

Girl Dies In Fall From Ferris Wheel

BRUNSWICK, Mo. (AP)—An 8-year-old girl was killed Wednesday night in a 35-foot fall from a ferris wheel a few minutes before it opened for business.

Debbie McCowan, of Windsor, Mo., died of a fractured skull.

Marshal Carl Kistler said an 18-year-old boy, a member of the carinval troupe, was in the ferris wheel seat with Debbie when it tipped forward. Kistler said the boy grabbed the unfastened safety bar with one hand and the girl with the other, but Debbie fell from his grasp.

Churchill Spends Another Good Night

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill spent another comfortable night in Middlesex Hospital and ordered a bottle of champagne with his lunch today.

The 87-year-old statesman is making such good progress in his recovery from a thigh fracture that his doctors are expected to let him go home next week.

Can't Dig That U.S. Slang

'Pen Pal' Visits At Lawrenceville

Miss Francoise Lina of St. Cloud, near Paris, right, is becoming acquainted with American rocking chairs and slang in a visit with a long-time pen pal, Mrs. Donna Sage of Rural Ln., Lawrenceville.

In the U.S. for three months to improve her English, the 23-year-old traveler discusses some of the letters they have exchanged since they began writing each other in 1957.

Mademoiselle Lina, a student at the University of Paris, where she majors in languages, arrived in the U. S. Thursday and reached Lawrenceville Friday for a week's stay with Mrs. Sage.

The blue-eyed brunette will leave Friday for Chicago, where she will visit family friends, and plans to return to Europe in September.

Mrs. Sage began correspondence with her Gallic friend through Letters Abroad, a New York organization, and has been exchanging letters with her for five years. Mrs. Sage said she had received an old picture, but Francoise doesn't look like the photograph.

Francoise plans to attend a special school in Geneva, Switzerland, in the fall, where she will study interpreting, hoping to obtain an interpreter's position with some international organization.

She says she likes America, but there are some things which surprise her, such as rocking chairs.

"We don't have time for that in France," she comments.

Mrs. Sage, who does not understand French, says Francoise speaks English carefully and slowly, without the familiar slang terms so much a part of local conversation.

Mrs. Sage and her guest, who can see the Eiffel Tower from her home, visited the Homer Laughlin China Co. Wednesday afternoon.

By the time she returns to Paris, no doubt Francoise will have a greater understanding of American use of the word "crazy" and will have encountered the culinary artistry in a charcoal grilled hamburger.

East Palestine and overturned on its top, also injuring a passenger.

Spratly suffered multiple lacerations of the left arm and bruises of the head, and Archie Gilbert, 16, of 491 Spruce Way, Beaver, was treated for brush burns of the left leg.

The patrol said Spratly, headed east in a 1953 convertible, lost control at the crest of a hill and it swerved off the right side of the road and overturned about two miles east of the Pennsylvania line at 4:15 p. m.

Gerald Lee Fox, 18, of Salem was treated at Salem Central Clinic for injuries received when his motorcycle hit the rear of a car operated by Freda Elizabeth Kyser, 52, of New Waterford R.D. 2 on Route 14 just west of Washingtonville last night.

Officers said the woman pulled from another road into the path of the cycle, which struck the left rear of the car. Fox was treated for a laceration of the head and abrasions and bruises of the nose and hands.

The woman was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Heart Attack Fatal

OMAHA (AP) — Paul L. Beaubein, 59, supervisory archeologist in the Midwest region office of the National Park Service, died Wednesday after a heart attack.

10-mill limitations to realize the monies.

In other business, Council passed legislation establishing the rate of pay for the City Hall janitor and parking meter repairman. Oscar VanDyke, who serves in both positions, will be paid $100 a month from the general fund for his custodial duties and $200 a month from the parking meter fund as repairman and collector.

Miller explained that this does not constitute a raise in salary, but rather allows an additional $850 of his annual salary to be taken from the meter fund His wages had been $270 a month from the general fund as janitor and $30 a month from the meter fund.

Grafton Motors of Main St. was granted permission to break curbing along Main St. across from its place of business. The firm is razing an old building for a parking lot.

Council also was notified by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. that it will repair various crossings in town as soon as possible.

Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, was directed to write a letter to Atty. Ben Berman of East Liverpool asking him to have the heavy brush cut away from the sidewalk along the Mable Boyd property at 7th and Main Sts.

Councilman Dwight MacLean commented the shrubbery hangs out over the sidewalk, making it difficult for pedestrians to pass.

New Meters Arrive— They're Wrong Type

The long - awaited meters for the new municipal parking lot on E. 4th St. arrived Wednesday — but there was no joy for city officials when they examined the devices.

The 40 meters ordered from the M. H. Rhodes Co. of Hartford, Conn., provide for a time limit of 2½ hours rather than the 10-hour limit specified by the city, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said.

Owen said he is checking with the Connecticut firm on the error. The director indicated the meters may be installed on the new lot-site of the former Ceramic Theater — until replacement meters are shipped.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: The trick to mending rubber gloves is to mend them before they need it! And while they are still brand new! Turn gloves inside out. Put a thimble on the finger that you are working on. Cut pieces of tape (I use adhesive) about one-half inch long. Make a little "snip" in the center of the tape on each side so the tape will overlap smoothly.

Put these strips of tape on the tip of each finger (your thimble will keep it from flattening) and your gloves are ready to use! This tape won't make the fingers bulky.

MRS. GEORGE DORSA

Another Use

DEAR HELOISE: I find that old newspapers work beautifully for cleaning the windshield of the car. Clean perfectly and can be thrown away.

During hot weather, I find that plastic place mats are a necessity on the table to eliminate ironing. And all my knickknacks are put away for the summer months with the exception of vases for fresh flowers.

During vacation, all children help with my chores. They like it.

VAGABOND GYPSY

Avoid Wax Buildup

DEAR HELOISE: To eliminate the build up of wax in corners and under cabinets, just scrub the areas that get the most wear and use only cool, clear water on the other parts that are not scuffed and worn.

Then just rewax the area where you really scrubbed . . . NOT around the baseboards and in the corners. This way the heavily waxed areas get the protection of the wax and the out-of-the-way places don't get coats and coats of wax that will be yellow and dirty-looking.

MRS. RUSS JOHNSON

This does save wax, saves removing built-up coats of it, and saves energy. This gal was on the ball!

I want you to know that I dearly love each of you who takes the time to write. It is impossible to answer each letter but I send you my devoted love and appreciation this day.

Thanks for the kisses sent, the cards, but most of all for sharing all your troubles and hints. I do understand. I am a housewife too.

New Teacher Hired

Wellsville's Gym Due New Lights

The Wellsville Board of Education Wednesday night announced plans for installation of a new lighting system and painting of the interior of Beacom Memorial gymnasium.

The board, at a special session, also adopted an insurance program for students, hired a new instructor and accepted the resignation of another teacher.

Raymond S. Rolley, clerk, outlined two proposals for new lighting. One calls for use of all fluorescent lights, while the other calls for a combination of mercury vapor and incandescent fixtures.

Final action was delayed until a check can be made on the respective systems to determine which would be best.

One report said the fluorescent lights would cost less to install, but William Ferrall, a board member, commented they would cost more to maintain. He also contended the mercury vapor lights have a longer service life.

THE COST is expected to run between $2,000 and $3,000. The roof of the gymnasium has been repaired and resealed, it was reported.

The student accident policies will be with the Pilot Life's Scholastic Accident Insurance. It will be obtained through the Miller Insurance Agency of Wellsville at a cost of $2 per student.

Parents will pay the premium if they want the coverage. The policy covers junior high school football players, but not varsity team members. It also covers students in all extra-curricular activities or in event of general accidents during "school time."

Thomas Andrews of Toronto, a June graduate of Steubenville College, was hired as a secondary instructor. He will teach language arts at Daw Junior High School. It is his first teaching assignment.

—:—

THE BOARD accepted the resignation of Miss Margaret H. Frischkorn as principal of Garfield School. She plans to retire.

She will be presented a letter of commendation and a certificate for her service to the system.

The board also approved a request from George Lawton that he be relieved of his duties as assistant football coach. He will continue coaching junior basketball.

Supt. Lowell Myers reported four more instructors are needed to fill out the staff. They are an industrial arts and a commercial teacher for the high school, a social studies-health instructor for the junior high school and an elementary instructor.

Sixty student table and chair desks will be purchased from the American Seating Co. for $20.70 each. They will be used in the first grade at Garfield School. The purchase of a 30-cubic foot food freezer for the cafeteria at Fairview School also was approved. It will be obtained from Ed House of Wellsville, a dealer in commercial appliances, at a cost of $740.

THE SMALLER freezer at Fairview will be utilized at the high school cafeteria. Rolley commented this will give both cafeterias additional freezer space, which is needed.

Myers read a report from Mrs. Helen Welch, high school librarian, which showed a 14 per cent increase in use of the library by the students. She also listed the number of volumes needed to meet state requirements and request for larger quarters.

Mrs. Welch also asked for compensation for her summer work. She uses the time to catalogue books. The state will reimburse the system for her time and she is eligible for one-ninth of her base salary. It was approved.

Myers also read a report from Mrs. Jean Tipton, school nurse, who listed the number of calls she made to homes, the number of students checked, first aid calls and so forth.

It was reported several blackboards in the buildings have been refinished.

ROLLEY said the new appraisal on the buildings for insurance purposes shows a valuation of $1,653,554, compared to $1,640,990 last year. It is estimated it would cost a total of $2,185,830 to replace all the physical plant.

The board also voted to have Myers contact county authorities in regard to setting up a tuberculosis testing program in the schools. Final action on the type of test to be given, those who are to take it and how it will be scheduled will be taken at the next meeting.

The action came after Richard Grills, board member, commented the school children should be tested in some manner. He said the city donates $2,100 to the program each year but the schools do not take advantage of the testing.

A discussion was held on who should take the test, including teachers and other personnel.

FERRALL suggested a general cleanup and some repairs at the Nicholson Football Stadium. He said much of the work required was caused by vandalism. He said a check showed lights broken, locks broken and a fixture in a rest room torn from the wall.

He commented that once the new entrance is completed, everyone should be told to stay out of the stadium unless they have permission to use the facilities.

He also suggested that perhaps some civic organization might be contacted to aid with reversing the seats at the stadium. The undersides of the boards are in good condition and it would not cost much to turn them over, he commented.

Myers presented each member with a mimeographed agenda, an innovation at Wellsville Board meetings. The members expressed a desire to have him continue the plan.

Mayor Requests Solicitor To Rule On Filling Posts

Chester Mayor Harry Abrams, whose appointment of committees was turned down by the new Council in a 3-2 vote at an organizational meeting July 5, questioned the legality of the move at a meeting Wednesday night.

City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner was requested to provide an opinion on proper procedure for committee appointments after a study of the city charter and actions since 1907, when the city was formed.

Mayor Abrams, Republican, said he believed he as mayor has the sole right to name committees.

His appointments were rejected July 5 with Councilmen Don Chaney, Wayne Hutton and Carl Graham voting against them and Councilmen Donald Hissam and Charles Kology voting in favor.

Committee appointments recommended by Chaney, a Democrat, then were approved by Hutton and Graham, Republicans, and Chaney and Kology, Democrats. Hissam opposed the new appointments.

Newell Cub Pack Will Visit Circus

Plans to attend the Shrine Circus at Wheeling next Wednesday were completed at a meeting of the committee of Cub Scout Pack 10 of Newell Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lucas, 91 Grant St., Newell.

All the scouts are to meet at Wells High School not later than 5:30 p. m. Transportation will be provided. Anyone who can furnish a car is to contact Lucas at EV 7-1996.

Harry Edmund, cubmaster, announced a work detail will be held Tuesday, Aug. 7, to clear the streets of litter. The cubs will meet at the Jefferson School at 5:30 p. m. in uniform. They are to take a large bag or container for the litter.

A family outing and wiener roast will be held Sunday, Aug. 19, at 3 p. m. on Newell Heights. The pack will furnish soft drinks. Games will include softball.

The pack will march in the Newell firemen's parade Friday. They will meet at Jefferson School in uniform at 6:30 p. m. The committee will meet again Aug. 21 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson, 413½ Grant St.

Washington Man Gets New Post In Crucible

E. Fred Mechlin Jr. of Washington has been appointed executive representative for commercial relations by Crucible Steel Co. of America.

He formerly was manager of Crucible's Washington office and operated Mechlin Associates of Washington.

In his new position, Mechlin will continue to represent the company in Washington and will expand his activities to include top level contracts with Crucible's national and trade relations accounts. He will operate from the company's headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Demonstration Slated For Sweeping Device

City officials were to witness a demonstration of a Wayne mechanized street sweeper today, the last scheduled demonstration by companies which submitted bids last week.

The Wayne model from Marks Tractor & Equipment Co. of Youngstown was trucked into the city this morning for the demonstration before Safety - Service Director Robert Owen, W. M. Laughlin, street superintendent, and Councilman Kenneth Berg.

The Rish Equipment Co. of Youngstown, which offered an Austin Western sweeper, has not made any arrangements for a demonstration, the director said. Several other models already have been shown to city officials.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: The trick to mending rubber gloves is to mend them before they need it! And while they are still brand new! Turn gloves inside out. Put a thimble on the finger that you are working on. Cut pieces of tape (I use adhesive) about one-half inch long. Make a little "snip" in the center of the tape on each side so the tape will overlap smoothly.

Put these strips of tape on the tip of each finger (your thimble will keep it from flattening) and your gloves are ready to use! This tape won't make the fingers bulky.

MRS. GEORGE DORSA

Another Use

DEAR HELOISE: I find that old newspapers work beautifully for cleaning the windshield of the car. Clean perfectly and can be thrown away.

During hot weather, I find that plastic place mats are a necessity on the table to eliminate ironing. And all my knickknacks are put away for the summer months with the exception of vases for fresh flowers.

During vacation, all children help with my chores. They like it.

VAGABOND GYPSY

Avoid Wax Buildup

DEAR HELOISE: To eliminate the build up of wax in corners and under cabinets, just scrub the areas that get the most wear and use only cool, clear water on the other parts that are not scuffed and worn.

Then just rewax the area where you really scrubbed . . . NOT around the baseboards and in the corners. This way the heavily waxed areas get the protection of the wax and the out-of-the-way places don't get coats and coats of wax that will be yellow and dirty-looking.

MRS. RUSS JOHNSON

This does save wax, saves removing built-up coats of it, and saves energy. This gal was on the ball!

I want you to know that I dearly love each of you who takes the time to write. It is impossible to answer each letter but I send you my devoted love and appreciation this day.

Thanks for the kisses sent, the cards, but most of all for sharing all your troubles and hints. I do understand. I am a housewife too.

Twins Flex Muscles, Post 11 Runs In 1st To Rout Tribe

Braves Hurler Handcuffs G-Men, 6-0; LA Nips Reds

Yanks, Angels Post Wins

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

And suddenly they got pitching, too.

For nearly three months the Los Angeles Angels puzzled the baseball world by staying in the thick of the American League pennant race despite what must be rated one of the poorest pitching staffs ever pasted together.

Leon Wagner was hitting home runs, Albie Pearson was getting on base, Lee Thomas was driving in runs, Billy Moran was fielding like Charlie Gehringer and manager Bill Rigney was pulling rabbits out of his baseball cap.

But the pitching . . . Ugh!

Until a week ago, Rigney could get only 10 complete games from his pitchers in 85 starts.

But in the last seven games, four of seven starters went the distance and, wonder of wonders, two of them did it on successive nights.

Don Lee, who hadn't won since June 27, pitched a four-hit, 5-0 shutout over Detroit Wednesday night, just 24 hours after Ken McBride had blanked the Tigers on three hits. This enabled the Angels to stay within 3½ games of the first-place New York Yankees who shellacked the Boston Red Sox 12-4.

Minnesota, aided by an 11-run first inning that included two grand slam homers, trounced Cleveland 14-3 to tie the Indians for third place, 5½ games off the pace. Washington took a 1-0 decision from Chicago and Kansas City snapped Baltimore's six-game winning streak with a 5-2 triumph.

Home runs by Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bobby Richardson highlighted the Yankees 16-hit attack against four Red Sox pitchers. Mantle drove in four runs and Berra three. Rookie Jim Bouton yielded 11 hits, but coasted to his third triumph. Bill Monbouquette suffered his ninth defeat.

Grand slammers by Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew featured the Twins' 11-run first inning during which seven of the 14 batters who faced pitchers Barry Latman and Jim Perry hit safely. Never before had a team hit two grand slammers in one inning. Earl Battey also homered in that frame.

Killbrew later added his second homer and 24th of the season. The Twins' 15-hit attack enabled Dick Stigman to breeze to victory. He fanned 11 of his former Indian mates.

Bennie Daniels, beaten 10 times in 12 previous decisions, pitched a three-hitter in a brilliant 1-0 hurling duel against Ray Herbert of the White Sox. Successive doubles in the ninth after two were out by Harry Bright and Chuck Hinton accounted for the game's lone run.

Bob Giggie, in his first major league start, not only outdueled Baltimore's Milt Pappas but got the tie-breaking run that ended the Athletics' seven-game losing streak. Giggie reached first on Jim Gentile's seventh inning error, was sacrificed to second and scored on Jerry Lumpe's single.

Howard's Bat Sinks Cincy

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

When do you put the winning run on base intentionally?

Never, say the baseball purists. Well, almost never, says Los Angeles Dodger Manager Walter Alston. But when the guy has already hit two home runs . . .

Anyway, Alston ordered Gordie Coleman walked in the 11th inning of a hair-raiser Wednesday night against the Cincinnati Reds, with the tying run on second base. The move paid off in a 6-5 victory when Marty Keough bounced into a forceout.

The win padded the Dodgers' lead in the National League to two games over the San Francisco Giants, who managed only two hits—both by Chuck Hiller — off Milwaukee's Bob Shaw and lost 6-0.

Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson wished his hurlers had never pitched to Frank Howard. The lumbering outfielder hammered a two-run two-out homer in the ninth to tie the score and bashed another in the 11th for the two clinching runs. They nullified Coleman's two homers.

In other National League action the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Houston Colts 6-2 and the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Chicago Cubs 2-1 as Bob Gibson pitched his third straight three-hitter.

A doubleheader between the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Mets was rained out.

The Braves jumped on Juan Marichal for two in the first on Lee Maye's homer and added three in the third and one in the eighth off bonus rookie Bob Garibaldi.

Gibson, who ran his record to 12-6, lost his second consecutive shutout when Billy Williams homered in the fourth. The big right-hander struck out 12.

The Cards got both their runs off rookie Carl Koonce, who threw a one-hitter in his last outing, in the fourth on a bases loaded double by Ken Boyer.

A five-run first inning off starter Bob Bruce was all the Phillies needed for their 11th straight win over Houston, which has now lost 21 of its last 24 games. Dallas Green set down the Colts with six hits.

Koufax On Shelf Until Hand Heals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sandy Koufax is on the bench until his talented left hand heals, and the Los Angeles Dodgers' pennant chances are up in the air as a result.

A specialist examined the 26-year-old strikeout king Wednesday and ordered rest and drugs for Koufax, who was en route to his finest season with a 14-5 record.

There has been unconfirmed speculation that Koufax would be out of action two weeks, or even longer. This means he'll miss at least three or four pitching turns.

The Dodgers currently are in first place by two games in the National League race. They beat Cincinnati 6-5 in 11 innings Wednesday night.

Koufax was examined by Dr. Travis Winsor, a nationally known authority on vascular disturbances. Dr. Winsor said:

"Koufax is suffering from a diminution in the amount of blood flowing to the index finger of his left hand. He will be put on a series of drugs to expand the arteries in the area.

"His period of inactivity from baseball will depend on immediate and ultimate response to medication."

Dr. Robert Woods, team physician said: "There is no way of telling how quickly the finger will heal, but we do know the drugs will eventually do the job."

He said Koufax' ailment was not a disease, but an injury probably caused by catching a ball barehanded. The injury caused a narrowing of the arteries in his index finger.

Penn State's unbeaten seasons number eight in 74 seasons of intercollegiate football.

Palmer, Nicklaus 1-2 Choices

PGA Firing Underway Near Philly

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEWTON SQUARE, Pa. (AP) —You can't pick any one player to beat Arnold Palmer in the 44th Professional Golfers' Association championship, starting today over the hilly Aronimink course just outside Philadelphia. But one canny observer figures he can name three and one of them might pick up that valuable prize.

Harold Sargent, honorary president of the PGA, probably should be listed as a member of Arnie's Army, the excited, shoving, obviously partisan crowd that turns out every time the Latrobe, Pa., muscle man hits a defenseless little white ball. He's definitely a Palmer enthusiast, but he assesses Palmer's chances this way:

"If you didn't have a player like Palmer around, you'd realize what great golfers Billy Casper and Gene Littler are. Give me three picks and I'd name them and Jack Nicklaus as having chances to beat Palmer."

At that, Sargent is giving himself the edge on the listed odds, which name Palmer as a 2-1 favorite with U.S. Open champion Nicklaus a 3-1 second choice. South Africa's Gary Player is third at 5-1 with Casper 6-1 and Littler 10-1.

Palmer and Nicklaus, two of the longest clouters in the game, were paired today for the first round of the 72-hole tournament over 7,045-yard, par 35-35—70 Aronimink, a course that seems made to order for the big hitters.

Neither will say so, but they obviously are looking at the PGA as a personal duel—with the realization that a dozen or so others in the field of 171 could slip in ahead of them.

THESE TWO HAPPY Minnesota Twins set a major league record Wednesday when each of them hit a grand slam home run in the same inning. Bob Allison (left) hit a fast ball pitched by Cleveland's starting pitcher Barry Latman and Harmon Killebrew hit a pitch thrown by reliever Jim Perry. (UPI Telephoto)

Burbick Nine Rallies, Tops Golden Star

Down by a 3-0 score, Burbick's, shooting for the second half title in the Pony League, rallied for eight runs in the last two innings to gain an 8-3 decision over Golden Star Wednesday at Dopler Field.

Burbick's pounded out 11 hits and took advantage of eight Golden Star errors to win. Leading the hitting attack was Massey with three hits in four trips while Mike Silliman and Clarence Crable had two apiece.

Rick Calhoun wound up the winning pitcher with some help from Silliman. Len Walker was the losing hurler, going six innings.

Golden Star scored all of its runs in the third inning. Leading the Dairymen at the plate were Hasala and Natalina with two hits each.

Weese's Squad Wins Ladies Golf Contest At Club

A team captained by Mrs. Gordon Weese, which included Mrs. W. B. Laughlin, Mrs. J. E. Mountford and Mrs. H. A. Smith, won the annual Ladies Amateur-Amateur event Wednesday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The winning foursome fired a 33-34-67 to win by one stroke.

Finishing in the runnerup spot with a 30-38-68 were Mrs. W. R. Kelly, Mrs. Everson Hall, Mrs. J. S. Probst and Mrs. Okey Ludwig.

A team captained by Mrs. William L. Smith finished with a 69.

Michigan State tailback Ron Rubick of Manistique and wingback Dewey Lincoln of Hamtramck scored 184 and 139 points, respectively, during their senior year of prep competition.

Roach's 3 Homers Features Action In Junior League

Lloyd Roach walloped three home runs and pitched Frankfort to an easy 26-10 victory over Hanover to feature action in the South Side Hot Stove League's Junior Division Wednesday.

Stevens also hit for the circuit in the Frankfort victory.

Hookstown registered a 32-4 rout over Shippingport as Dave Woodling fanned 14 batters. Frank Scott went five-for-five, including three triples, and Larry Anderson had five hits in seven trips.

Georgetown defeated Lawrenceville, 7-1, with Gregg Trimble the winning pitcher. Cunningham socked a home run for the winners.

In a game played Tuesday, which was completed from a previous date, Hanover defeated Newell, 11-8, in 11 innings. Litell was the winning pitcher.

In a regulation game, Newell was leading, 9-2, when the game was called because of darkness in the fourth inning. The game will be completed later.

Teams Needed For Slow Pitch Tourney Set Sunday

A single elimination slow pitch softball tournament will start Sunday at Patterson Foundry Field in East End.

Entries close Saturday at 4 p.m. and the entry fee will be $10. Anyone interested in entering a team should contact Jim Tice at FU 6-6528. Drawings will be held Saturday after 4 p. m. at the YMCA.

Six games will be played Sunday with two games next Thursday and Friday and finish with five games on Sunday July 29.

A trophy will be given to the winning team and runnerup and one for the leading hitter and pitcher with the top earned run average.

Australian Wins In French Open

PARIS (AP) — A new international golfing star may have been uncovered in the French Open Championship.

Alan Murray, an Australian who is only 22, won the open Wednesday with final rounds of 69 and 68, for a 14-under-par total of 274 for 72 holes.

A stroke back were Peter Thomson, four-time winner of the British Open, and Bob Charles of New Zealand, the world's best left hander.

Don Essig, an Indianapolis pro now stationed at an air base in France, had a final round 65 to finish at 284. William P. Castleman of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the only other American in the final round, had 302.

Al Kaline began the 1962 season with a .309 career batting average, highest in the American League. Mickey Mantle was next with .308.

Columbiana Tops Locals

Columbiana blasted the East Liverpool Merchants, 10-2, Wednesday at Patterson Field.

Sloan gave up only six hits to the locals as his teammates backed him with a nine-hit attack coming off Ed Six and Hildebrand.

Columbiana opened with three runs in the first inning, three more in the third and two each in the fourth and sixth frames.

The EL Merchants return to play in the New Castle tournament tonight. They have won one and lost one in the double elimination event.

Howard's Bat Sinks Cincy

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

And suddenly they got pitching, too.

For nearly three months the Los Angeles Angels puzzled the baseball world by staying in the thick of the American League pennant race despite what must be rated one of the poorest pitching staffs ever pasted together.

Leon Wagner was hitting home runs, Albie Pearson was getting on base, Lee Thomas was driving in runs, Billy Moran was fielding like Charlie Gehringer and manager Bill Rigney was pulling rabbits out of his baseball cap.

But the pitching . . . Ugh!

Until a week ago, Rigney could get only 10 complete games from his pitchers in 85 starts.

But in the last seven games, four of seven starters went the distance and, wonder of wonders, two of them did it on successive nights.

Don Lee, who hadn't won since June 27, pitched a four-hit, 5-0 shutout over Detroit Wednesday night, just 24 hours after Ken McBride had blanked the Tigers on three hits. This enabled the Angels to stay within 3½ games of the first-place New York Yankees who shellacked the Boston Red Sox 12-4.

Minnesota, aided by an 11-run first inning that included two grand slam homers, trounced Cleveland 14-3 to tie the Indians for third place, 5½ games off the pace. Washington took a 1-0 decision from Chicago and Kansas City snapped Baltimore's six-game winning streak with a 5-2 triumph.

Home runs by Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bobby Richardson highlighted the Yankees 16-hit attack against four Red Sox pitchers. Mantle drove in four runs and Berra three. Rookie Jim Bouton yielded 11 hits, but coasted to his third triumph. Bill Monbouquette suffered his ninth defeat.

Grand slammers by Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew featured the Twins' 11-run first inning during which seven of the 14 batters who faced pitchers Barry Latman and Jim Perry hit safely. Never before had a team hit two grand slammers in one inning. Earl Battey also homered in that frame.

Killbrew later added his second homer and 24th of the season. The Twins' 15-hit attack enabled Dick Stigman to breeze to victory. He fanned 11 of his former Indian mates.

Bennie Daniels, beaten 10 times in 12 previous decisions, pitched a three-hitter in a brilliant 1-0 hurling duel against Ray Herbert of the White Sox. Successive doubles in the ninth after two were out by Harry Bright and Chuck Hinton accounted for the game's lone run.

Bob Giggie, in his first major league start, not only outdueled Baltimore's Milt Pappas but got the tie-breaking run that ended the Athletics' seven-game losing streak. Giggie reached first on Jim Gentile's seventh inning error, was sacrificed to second and scored on Jerry Lumpe's single.

Alan Murray, an Australian who is only 22, won the open Wednesday with final rounds of 69 and 68, for a 14-under-par total of 274 for 72 holes.

A stroke back were Peter Thomson, four-time winner of the British Open, and Bob Charles of New Zealand, the world's best left hander.

Don Essig, an Indianapolis pro now stationed at an air base in France, had a final round 65 to finish at 284. William P. Castleman of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the only other American in the final round, had 302.

Al Kaline began the 1962 season with a .309 career batting average, highest in the American League. Mickey Mantle was next with .308.

Braves Pitcher Blames Self For Poor Fielding

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee right-hander Bob Shaw blames his own fielding for muffing a chance for a possible no-hitter against the slugging San Francisco Giants.

Although pleased with a 6-0 victory over the Giants Wednesday night, the 29-year-old Shaw berated himself for failing to come up with a grounder by Chuck Hiller in the third inning. It was the lone San Francisco hit before Hiller doubled in the ninth.

"I should have had that ball in the third easily," Shaw said. "It cost me a helluva shot at a no-hitter as I would have been more careful in the ninth and Hiller wouldn't have got a fast ball across the plate. Del Crandall and I would have planned pitches more carefully."

Shaw surrendered two walks in the first inning, then retired the Giants in order except for Hiller's hits. Shaw snapped a personal five-game losing streak and posted his 10th victory against seven losses.

Hiller's infield grounder caught Shaw off balance and rolled to the right of second base, where Frank Bolling made a desperate back-handed lunge. The ball rolled off Bolling's glove as Hiller raced to first.

Little Hope Seen For Reds To Gain Help From Freese

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson is resigned to the fact there is little chance of getting help this year from the booming bat of injured third baseman Gene Freese.

Freese was a key figure in the Cincinnati Reds' 1961 National League pennant drive.

Freese still has hopes, however, of seeing some action with the Reds, currently fifth in the National League.

Freese, who has been on the disabled list since March 18, suffered a broken right ankle in an intra-squad spring training game in Tampa, Fla., on March 5.

Last year Freese hit 26 home runs and drove in 87 runs while batting .277 in 152 games. Veterans Eddie Kasko and Don Zimmer have filled in ably at third this year but neither has the long ball hitting power of Freese.

Freese, concerned about the ankle which also had been broken a few years earlier, has been running, batting and trying everything possible to work out the stiffness in the foot.

"I started running real well a few weeks ago as long as I made no turn," he said. "Now, finally, the ankle is swiveling. I still hope to get into a few games, one way or another."

Hutchinson took another slant at the third baseman's condition.

"He still can't turn as well as he should," Hutchinson said. "His morale is good and he wants to get in but I have to look at it this way:

"If I used him as a pinch hitter, I would end up using three players for one job. Freese would replace the starting player, then someone would have to replace him.

"Of course, he could come along late in the season, but he is not in our plans at present."

Benny Goodman, the King of Swing, is back home after jazzing it up for the Russians.

The bandleader arrived in New York Wednesday from England where he spent a week resting after his tour, sponsored by the U.S. State Department's cultural exchange program.

Goodman said Russian audiences were "very good, very receptive and discerning.

The only Russians who failed to respond kindly to his music, he said, were "the bureaucrats in the first-night audience."

G. Mennen Williams, U.S. Undersecretary of State for African Affairs, was honor guest at a dinner given Wednesday night by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak in Brussels. Williams talked earlier Wednesday with Spaak and Belgian experts on the Congo.

Japan's Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda says, "Japan will not possess nuclear weapons as long as the Ikeda government is in power."

"This is an election promise I have made," Ikeda said Wednesday in Tokyo as he held his first news conference after reshuffling his cabinet.

Lady MacLean, 82-year-old mother of runaway British diplomat Donald MacLean, was reported seriously ill at her country home in England Wednesday. A cable was sent to her son Donald in Moscow, but the former diplomat's brother, Alan, refused to discuss the possibility of Donald's return to Britain. Donald MacLean and fellow diplomat Guy Burgess left Britain in May 1951 to go over to the Russians.

Florist Nine Gains Ground In Colt Loop

The victory gives the Florists a 4-1 record and a solid hold on first place in the Colt League.

Riverview was extended in winning yesterday's contest which was tied 2-2 at the end of the regulation seven innings. A pair of runs in the first of the ninth put the victory away for Riverview.

Vaughn carried the big bat to the plate for Riverview, connecting for three hits in five trips. Johnson was the winning hurler, with Stepien the loser.

Colt All-Stars Open Tourney Play Sunday

The Colt League All-Stars enter tournament play Sunday at 2 p. m. at the East Liverpool field when they face North Boros from near Pittsburgh. The Area tournament will be a double elimination affair.

It Sounded Like An Intriguing Bargain

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — It sounded like an intriguing bargain.

The Pinellas County Commission said it had a surplus tetrahedron, slightly rusted but in good condition otherwise and it wished to get rid of it. It asked for bids.

Fascinated, two reporters entered bids of 50 cents and $1. Then they asked what they were bidding on.

Commissioners explained that a tetrahedron is a triangular pyramid, and this particular tetrahedron is a wind direction indicator that is no longer used at St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport.

The reporters didn't get the instrument. The commission is holding out for a better bid from a public agency.

Aged Driver Chalks Up A Few Accidents

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Police suspect Benjamin Talmadge, 72, may be accident prone. Their suspicion is so strong they asked the court to revoke Talmadge's driver's license.

One day recently, police said Talmadge sideswiped a car at 9:30 a. m.; his right front door flew open and brushed two cars at 11:15 a. m.; he ran into the rear of a police cruiser at noon.

The night before, Talmadge backed into a parked car. Records showed he had two other minor accidents earlier this year.

Boy Hit By Lightning Hopes To Regain Sight

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Nine-year-old Billy Bradley Jr. of El Dorado was blinded when struck by lightning while he was playing baseball.

That was 2½ months ago.

Now he has hopes of regaining his sight. The El Dorado News-Times has asked for contributions to a proposed $3,000 fund to pay for two operations for the boy.

His doctors say Bill will be able to see if the cataracts which formed over his seared eyes are removed.

Canton Boy Drowns

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The body of a 7-year-old boy was recovered Wednesday from water 13 feet deep near the diving board at Willow Springs Swim Club. Stark County sheriff's deputies said the boy was Randy Lee Blythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blythe of Canton.

Michigan State's football game with North Carolina will mark the first time since 1950 that the Spartans have played a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Rich Futurity Set Tonight Over Yonkers

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The eighth and richest Yonkers Futurity will be raced over 1 1-16 miles at Yonkers Raceway tonight with nine 3-year-old trotters, one a highly regarded filly, seeking the major share of the $105,422 purse.

All of the sport's top 3-year-old trotters, with the exception of the 1961 juvenile champ, Impish, are in this first event of the division's triple crown. The Hambletonian at Du Quoin, Ill., Aug. 29 and the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington, Ky., Oct. 5 complete the triad. The winner tonight will get 50 per cent of the total purse.

A.C.'s Viking has been installed the 8-5 choice largely off his recent straight victory in the Historic Dickerson Cup at Goshen, N.Y. The son of Hoot Mon, a rangy speedster, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Peterson of West Hartford, Conn., and will be reined by 62-year-old Sanders Russell.

Safe Mission from the S. A. Camp Farms, Inc., of Shafter, Calif., and Sprite Rodney, the fily carrying the hopes of the Blue Spruce Farms of Norwich, N.Y., are next in the early betting line. Safe Mission is quoted at 3-1 and Sprite Rodney at 7-2.

Gallant Hanover, Isaac, Lord Valentine, Nathaniel, Oh You Kid and Rooney Hanover round out the field.

Cleveland Board Eyes Bond Issue For New Schools

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Board of Education has voted to place a $55 million bond issue for new schools on the ballot for the Nov. 6 election. It will be the largest bond issue ever submitted by the board.

In taking the action Wednesday the board junked the "pay as you go" system of financing schools buildings which has been in effect since 1939.

It also sliced about one-third off a proposed long - range building program—chiefly $30 million for replacing old buildings—and cut from 10 years to 5 years the schedule for the remainder of the program.

Major projects in the program adopted are five senior high schools, four junior high schools, seven elementary schools and a replacement for Jane Addams Vocational High School for Girls.

Board President Walter L. Davis said the net effect on taxpayers will be a drop in millage if the bond issue is approved. A 2-mill levy for school building, which has two more years to run, would be canceled.

Lenny Moore, now with the Baltimore Colts, scored 13 touchdowns for Penn State in 1954.

Cards' Gibson Strikes Out 12 Batters In 3-Hit Job

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Gibson says "it's harder to get that third strike past a batter than it is to sink a basket."

Many batters in the National League wish he'd taken the easy course and kept on making baskets for the Harlem Globetrotters.

The St. Louis Cardinal right-hander couldn't find it too difficult to get that third strike—he did it 12 times Wednesday night in defeating the Chicago Cubs 2-1. It was his third straight three-hit performance.

The former pro basketball star has struck out 130 in picking up his 12-6 record.

"My fast ball's my best pitch," Gibson said, but mixed in with the 103 pitches he threw against the Cubs was a palm ball he's been working on for some time.

The palm ball—a change of pace pitch—a slider, a sinker and a curve ball complete his bag of tricks.

Elyria Golfer In Top 10 Of Western Event

ORCHARD LAKE, Mich. (AP) —Arthur Hudnutt, Elyria, Ohio, publisher, was among the top 10 leaders Wednesday after playing 18 holes of the 72-hole qualifying round of the Western Amateur Golf Tournament at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

Hudnutt's 37 - 35 — 72 round matched par and bunched him with three others. Labron Harris Jr. of Stillwater, Okla., led the field with a 66.

Braves Pitcher Blames Self For Poor Fielding

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee right-hander Bob Shaw blames his own fielding for muffing a chance for a possible no-hitter against the slugging San Francisco Giants.

Although pleased with a 6-0 victory over the Giants Wednesday night, the 29-year-old Shaw berated himself for failing to come up with a grounder by Chuck Hiller in the third inning. It was the lone San Francisco hit before Hiller doubled in the ninth.

"I should have had that ball in the third easily," Shaw said. "It cost me a helluva shot at a no-hitter as I would have been more careful in the ninth and Hiller wouldn't have got a fast ball across the plate. Del Crandall and I would have planned pitches more carefully."

Shaw surrendered two walks in the first inning, then retired the Giants in order except for Hiller's hits. Shaw snapped a personal five-game losing streak and posted his 10th victory against seven losses.

Hiller's infield grounder caught Shaw off balance and rolled to the right of second base, where Frank Bolling made a desperate back-handed lunge. The ball rolled off Bolling's glove as Hiller raced to first.

Little Hope Seen For Reds To Gain Help From Freese

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson is resigned to the fact there is little chance of getting help this year from the booming bat of injured third baseman Gene Freese.

Freese was a key figure in the Cincinnati Reds' 1961 National League pennant drive.

Freese still has hopes, however, of seeing some action with the Reds, currently fifth in the National League.

Freese, who has been on the disabled list since March 18, suffered a broken right ankle in an intra-squad spring training game in Tampa, Fla., on March 5.

Last year Freese hit 26 home runs and drove in 87 runs while batting .277 in 152 games. Veterans Eddie Kasko and Don Zimmer have filled in ably at third this year but neither has the long ball hitting power of Freese.

Freese, concerned about the ankle which also had been broken a few years earlier, has been running, batting and trying everything possible to work out the stiffness in the foot.

"I started running real well a few weeks ago as long as I made no turn," he said. "Now, finally, the ankle is swiveling. I still hope to get into a few games, one way or another."

Hutchinson took another slant at the third baseman's condition.

"He still can't turn as well as he should," Hutchinson said. "His morale is good and he wants to get in but I have to look at it this way:

"If I used him as a pinch hitter, I would end up using three players for one job. Freese would replace the starting player, then someone would have to replace him.

"Of course, he could come along late in the season, but he is not in our plans at present."

Florist Nine Gains Ground In Colt Loop

Riverview was sitting in the driver's seat today after defeating the Lawyers, 4-2, Wednesday.

The victory gives the Florists a 4-1 record and a solid hold on first place in the Colt League.

Riverview was extended in winning yesterday's contest which was tied 2-2 at the end of the regulation seven innings. A pair of runs in the first of the ninth put the victory away for Riverview.

Vaughn carried the big bat to the plate for Riverview, connecting for three hits in five trips. Johnson was the winning hurler, with Stepien the loser.

Colt All-Stars Open Tourney Play Sunday

The Colt League All-Stars enter tournament play Sunday at 2 p. m. at the East Liverpool field when they face North Boros from near Pittsburgh. The Area tournament will be a double elimination affair.

It Sounded Like An Intriguing Bargain

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — It sounded like an intriguing bargain.

The Pinellas County Commission said it had a surplus tetrahedron, slightly rusted but in good condition otherwise and it wished to get rid of it. It asked for bids.

Fascinated, two reporters entered bids of 50 cents and $1. Then they asked what they were bidding on.

Commissioners explained that a tetrahedron is a triangular pyramid, and this particular tetrahedron is a wind direction indicator that is no longer used at St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport.

The reporters didn't get the instrument. The commission is holding out for a better bid from a public agency.

Aged Driver Chalks Up A Few Accidents

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Police suspect Benjamin Talmadge, 72, may be accident prone. Their suspicion is so strong they asked the court to revoke Talmadge's driver's license.

One day recently, police said Talmadge sideswiped a car at 9:30 a. m.; his right front door flew open and brushed two cars at 11:15 a. m.; he ran into the rear of a police cruiser at noon.

The night before. Talmadge backed into a parked car. Records showed he had two other minor accidents earlier this year.

Boy Hit By Lightning Hopes To Regain Sight

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Nine-year-old Billy Bradley Jr. of El Dorado was blinded when struck by lightning while he was playing baseball.

That was 2½ months ago.

Now he has hopes of regaining his sight. The El Dorado News-Times has asked for contributions to a proposed $3,000 fund to pay for two operations for the boy.

His doctors say Bill will be able to see if the cataracts which formed over his seared eyes are removed.

Canton Boy Drowns

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The body of a 7-year-old boy was recovered Wednesday from water 13 feet deep near the diving board at Willow Springs Swim Club. Stark County sheriff's deputies said the boy was Randy Lee Blythe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blythe of Canton.

Michigan State's football game with North Carolina will mark the first time since 1950 that the Spartans have played a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Rich Futurity Set Tonight Over Yonkers

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The eighth and richest Yonkers Futurity will be raced over 1 1-16 miles at Yonkers Raceway tonight with nine 3-year-old trotters, one a highly regarded filly, seeking the major share of the $105,422 purse.

All of the sport's top 3-year-old trotters, with the exception of the 1961 juvenile champ, Impish, are in this first event of the division's triple crown. The Hambletonian at Du Quoin, Ill., Aug. 29 and the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington, Ky., Oct. 5 complete the triad. The winner tonight will get 50 per cent of the total purse.

A.C.'s Viking has been installed the 8-5 choice largely off his recent straight victory in the Historic Dickerson Cup at Goshen, N.Y. The son of Hoot Mon, a rangy speedster, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Peterson of West Hartford, Conn., and will be reined by 62-year-old Sanders Russell.

Safe Mission from the S. A. Camp Farms, Inc., of Shafter, Calif., and Sprite Rodney, the fily carrying the hopes of the Blue Spruce Farms of Norwich, N.Y., are next in the early betting line. Safe Mission is quoted at 3-1 and Sprite Rodney at 7-2.

Gallant Hanover, Isaac, Lord Valentine, Nathaniel, Oh You Kid and Rooney Hanover round out the field.

Cleveland Board Eyes Bond Issue For New Schools

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Board of Education has voted to place a $55 million bond issue for new schools on the ballot for the Nov. 6 election. It will be the largest bond issue ever submitted by the board.

In taking the action Wednesday the board junked the "pay as you go" system of financing schools buildings which has been in effect since 1939.

It also sliced about one-third off a proposed long - range building program—chiefly $30 million for replacing old buildings—and cut from 10 years to 5 years the schedule for the remainder of the program.

Major projects in the program adopted are five senior high schools, four junior high schools, seven elementary schools and a replacement for Jane Addams Vocational High School for Girls.

Board President Walter L. Davis said the net effect on taxpayers will be a drop in millage if the bond issue is approved. A 2-mill levy for school building, which has two more years to run, would be canceled.

Lenny Moore, now with the Baltimore Colts, scored 13 touchdowns for Penn State in 1954.

Cards' Gibson Strikes Out 12 Batters In 3-Hit Job

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Gibson says "it's harder to get that third strike past a batter than it is to sink a basket."

Many batters in the National League wish he'd taken the easy course and kept on making baskets for the Harlem Globetrotters.

The St. Louis Cardinal right-hander couldn't find it too difficult to get that third strike—he did it 12 times Wednesday night in defeating the Chicago Cubs 2-1. It was his third straight three-hit performance.

The former pro basketball star has struck out 130 in picking up his 12-6 record.

"My fast ball's my best pitch," Gibson said, but mixed in with the 103 pitches he threw against the Cubs was a palm ball he's been working on for some time.

The palm ball—a change of pace pitch—a slider, a sinker and a curve ball complete his bag of tricks.

Elyria Golfer In Top 10 Of Western Event

ORCHARD LAKE, Mich. (AP) —Arthur Hudnutt, Elyria, Ohio, publisher, was among the top 10 leaders Wednesday after playing 18 holes of the 72-hole qualifying round of the Western Amateur Golf Tournament at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

Hudnutt's 37 - 35 — 72 round matched par and bunched him with three others. Labron Harris Jr. of Stillwater, Okla., led the field with a 66.

Benny Goodman, the King of Swing, is back home after jazzing it up for the Russians.

The bandleader arrived in New York Wednesday from England where he spent a week resting after his tour, sponsored by the U.S. State Department's cultural exchange program.

Goodman said Russian audiences were "very good, very receptive and discerning.

The only Russians who failed to respond kindly to his music, he said, were "the bureaucrats in the first-night audience."

G. Mennen Williams, U.S. Undersecretary of State for African Affairs, was honor guest at a dinner given Wednesday night by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak in Brussels. Williams talked earlier Wednesday with Spaak and Belgian experts on the Congo.

Japan's Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda says, "Japan will not possess nuclear weapons as long as the Ikeda government is in power."

"This is an election promise I have made," Ikeda said Wednesday in Tokyo as he held his first news conference after reshuffling his cabinet.

Can TV Live Without John Cameron Swayze?

After he had disposed of the prayers - in - school controversy with a few of his customery lightning-like thrusts ("Prayers, spankings and kissing games belong not in the classroom but in the home"), Jim Hartfelt settled back in his club car seat and ordered another Gibson. "I'm going to miss John Cameron Swayze," he said, mysteriously.

Alan Gill

I counted slowly and silently to 16, but it was obvious Hartfelt would outwait me to Pleasantville if necessary. "What do you mean?" I said.

"Swayze will go like the pterodactyl and the oznithorhynchus. We'll see him no more. And he'll take good old Sherwood Kirby with him, and that little Italian fellow, Tom Pedi, who shows the lady what a washday miracle Dash is.

"I can't tell you how much I'll miss all those long-legged beauties in their goggles and snorkles who take long, sweet drags on mentholated cigarettes. Say, when are they coming out with a mentholated cigar?"

"COME, COME, Hartfelt," I said testily, "get to the point. Where is Swayze going? And why?"

"Oh, there's a place for him somewhere. In dentistry, perhaps, or floorwalking. And of course what will drive him from view is tollvision or pay-TV or whatever they call it.

"I'll miss the sound of my children's little voices about the house singing the cigarette songs and other pleasant ditties.

'Pay-TV may drive Swayze to dentistry, but it's driving my kids to rock 'n' roll, and I protest. My only consolation is the certainty that the thing will fall on its face."

"What makes you think so?" I asked. "After all, they've just invaded Hartford, Conn., with the stuff. And they had Newton Minow out there to cut the ribbon or shovel the dirt or whatever."

-:-

"MARK MY WORDS," Hartfelt said, tapping my knee. "It will die aborning — done in by the basic penuriousness of the American people, by the type of entertainment the tollvision people promise, and by the unadmitted but nevertheless true delight an American finds in a roll-on deodorant commercial.

"The set owner will find, on his pay-TV channel, a negative impression of the program and noises like the rise-and-shine hour in a bird sanctuary. Free of charge, this has the ring of good TV watching to me.

"Now, for an installation fee of $10, the viewer can get a decoder. He also pays a 75-cent weekly charge for having the thing in his set. The guinea pigs in Hartford paid a buck to see the premiere program, a stiff movie called 'Sunrise at Campobello.' Then, for a buck twenty-five they get to see something called 'Lad: A Dog,' can you imagine? Following that, for another $1.25, they get 'Escape from Zahrain.' Do you think the American people, with their Scotch - Calvinist background, will sit still for that?"

"Well —," I said weakly.

"NEVER!" the man thundered. "And for that $10 plus 75 cents plus $2.50, they don't even get a look at a roll-on bottle deodorizing the armpits of some Greek statues.

"I figure the average viewer would be expected to spend at least $200 a year for this stuff, which is about 250 Gibsons. Oh sure, every once in a while there'll be an event like the Patterson - Liston fight, at $3.50 a crack, and they're talking about operas and Broadway shows.

"But look. Commercial TV is giving us Bernstein, baseball, and Jackie Gleason. Do you think tollvision can compete with them with 'Lad: a Dog' and 'Lucia di Lammamoor'? And if tollvision succeeds with 'Lucia,' don't you think CBS will give us 'Lucia' too?"

"Have another Gibson," I suggested.

"You're dodging the issue," he said. "The United States of America can't dispose of John Cameron Swayze any more than it can dispose of Texas."

WAC Officer Awaited To Talk To Prospects

Capt. Helen Kachmar, WAC selection officer in the tri - state area, will visit the Army Recruiting Station at the Post Office Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. to talk with single women college graduates who majored in liberal arts and who are interested in applying for a direct commission as second or first lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps.

Among other qualifications, candidates must be of excellent character, in good physical condition and show leadership potentialities, she said. The age bracket is 20-31.

Women selected during July and August will take 16 weeks of officers' training next January at Ft. McClellan, Ala. Interviews with Capt. Kachmar may be arranged by calling S.Sgt. Edward Vallor at FU 6-4262.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria and Lebanon pledged in a joint communique Wednesday to seek tighter political cooperation and an increased economic exchange.

Police Check 2 Burglaries

East Liverpool police today are continuing investigation of burglaries at Volino Brothers Block Works on State St. and the S. C. Williams Co. at 1st and Jackson Sts.

Loot totaled approximately $135 in the entry of the East End building, housing a business owned by Dominic and Ralph Volino, officers said.

Entry was gained by breaking a 9½-x-27-inch pane of glass in a rear door, then reaching through the opening to manipulate the latch, officers said. A rag was used to muffle the sound of the breaking glass, police said.

The $135 was removed from a filing cabinet. The intruders apparently left the same way they entered, police said. The entry was timed between 7:15 p. m. Tuesday and 7:15 a. m. Wednesday.

At the S. C. Williams Co., the loot included a six-inch wrench, a pair of pliers, two socket wrenches, an electric coffee pot, two ratchet wrenches and a grease gun, police said. Entry was gained by breaking a panel in an overhead door at the rear of the building. The burglary was timed between 4:30 p. m. Tuesday and 7 a. m. Wednesday.

Parents Should Help, Not Harp

A ten-year-old girl, 4½ feet tall who weighs 120 pounds writes: "I'm too fat, and the kids all make fun of me. Please help me reduce. I don't want my family to know because they'll tease me."

Ida Jean Kain

Childhood should be packed with fun, but it isn't for the fatty who is the butt of jokes. It's hard enough to take kidding from kids, but when the family gangs up, it's really tough.

Dieting isn't a child's business, it's a family affair. Parents should never make light of an overweight problem for it is now recognized that childhood chubbiness may be the first stage to obesity.

Stop telling the child she is too fat. Well she knows it! It does no good to harp about reducing. Get off her back! Help her.

If your child is seriously overweight, take him or her to a children's clinic, or to the pediatrician. Chances are that a change of food habits is all that is needed. But it is well to start with a clean slate of health.

A GROWNING CHILD can eat a lot of food and lose weight, provided sweets are strictly limited and exercise is stepped up. Many mothers write to ask the calorie allowance for children.

Between 7 and 9 the normal calorie allowance is 2,100. Between 10 and 12, it's 2,500 calories a day. A protective pattern of eating furnishing 1,200 to 1,400 calories a day will bring excellent results.

Summer is an ideal time to change to lighter fare for the whole family. Forget the word diet and concentrate on the good foods of the season. With melons, cherries and berries and all the good garden vegetables, the menus can be changed without comment from the kids. Who feels deprived when they are enjoying corn on the cob and watermelon?

Around 9 years is the best age to help an overweight child to change her food habits. By then she is eager to cooperate. Once a fatty wants to lose there is no real problem.

Go all out this summer to help the overweight child change her food habits and play off the pounds. Tomorrow we'll talk about the need for exercise.

Reps. Brown, Schenck Ask Watershed Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reps. Clarence J. Brown and Paul F. Schenck, both R-Ohio, have asked the House agriculture subcommittee to approve the Dick's Creek-Little Muddy Creek watershed project in Butler and Warren counties, Ohio. They described the project as unusual because the normally separated streams overlap in time of floods.

Brown and Schenck said the project would benefit 3,276 acres of farmlands and would provide flood protection to a larger area, including some urban communities. The project would cost $1,581,533 of which local interests would pay $368,000.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Can TV Live Without John Cameron Swayze?

After he had disposed of the prayers - in - school controversy with a few of his customery lightning-like thrusts ("Prayers, spankings and kissing games belong not in the classroom but in the home"), Jim Hartfelt settled back in his club car seat and ordered another Gibson. "I'm going to miss John Cameron Swayze," he said, mysteriously.

Alan Gill

I counted slowly and silently to 16, but it was obvious Hartfelt would outwait me to Pleasantville if necessary. "What do you mean?" I said.

"Swayze will go like the pterodactyl and the oznithorhynchus. We'll see him no more. And he'll take good old Sherwood Kirby with him, and that little Italian fellow, Tom Pedi, who shows the lady what a washday miracle Dash is.

"I can't tell you how much I'll miss all those long-legged beauties in their goggles and snorkles who take long, sweet drags on mentholated cigarettes. Say, when are they coming out with a mentholated cigar?"

"COME, COME, Hartfelt," I said testily, "get to the point. Where is Swayze going? And why?"

"Oh, there's a place for him somewhere. In dentistry, perhaps, or floorwalking. And of course what will drive him from view is tollvision or pay-TV or whatever they call it.

"I'll miss the sound of my children's little voices about the house singing the cigarette songs and other pleasant ditties.

'Pay-TV may drive Swayze to dentistry, but it's driving my kids to rock 'n' roll, and I protest. My only consolation is the certainty that the thing will fall on its face."

"What makes you think so?" I asked. "After all, they've just invaded Hartford, Conn., with the stuff. And they had Newton Minow out there to cut the ribbon or shovel the dirt or whatever."

-:-

"MARK MY WORDS," Hartfelt said, tapping my knee. "It will die aborning — done in by the basic penuriousness of the American people, by the type of entertainment the tollvision people promise, and by the unadmitted but nevertheless true delight an American finds in a roll-on deodorant commercial.

"The set owner will find, on his pay-TV channel, a negative impression of the program and noises like the rise-and-shine hour in a bird sanctuary. Free of charge, this has the ring of good TV watching to me.

"Now, for an installation fee of $10, the viewer can get a decoder. He also pays a 75-cent weekly charge for having the thing in his set. The guinea pigs in Hartford paid a buck to see the premiere program, a stiff movie called 'Sunrise at Campobello.' Then, for a buck twenty-five they get to see something called 'Lad: A Dog,' can you imagine? Following that, for another $1.25, they get 'Escape from Zahrain.' Do you think the American people, with their Scotch - Calvinist background, will sit still for that?"

"Well —," I said weakly.

"NEVER!" the man thundered. "And for that $10 plus 75 cents plus $2.50, they don't even get a look at a roll-on bottle deodorizing the armpits of some Greek statues.

"I figure the average viewer would be expected to spend at least $200 a year for this stuff, which is about 250 Gibsons. Oh sure, every once in a while there'll be an event like the Patterson - Liston fight, at $3.50 a crack, and they're talking about operas and Broadway shows.

Berm Work Remains In Route 344 Project

Only the berm work remains to be completed in a resurfacing of 1.6 miles of Route 344 in Leetonia and 3.1 miles of Route 154 between Elkton and Lisbon, the Ohio Department of Highways Division 11 at New Philadelphia announced.

The City Asphalt & Paving Co. of Youngstown completed the main resurfacing project July 13 and is to finish the work by July 31. The contract was for $44,622.

Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia completed resurfacing of Routes 39 and 164 in Salineville and Route 164 in Bergholz earlier this month. The project, which included resurfacing of Route 9 in Jewett, cost $36,711.

Young Driver Gets $25 Fine After Mishap

An 18-year-old area youth was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court after being convicted folowing a brief hearing on a charge of failing to halt his car within the assured clear distance.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff suspended $15 of the fine for Darryl T. Adams of R. D. 2, who was cited by State Patrolman P. E. Wenner after a collision June 30 on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd., about a mile west of the East Liverpool limits.

Adams had entered a not guilty plea at an earlier hearing but his counsel, Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine, received the court's permission to substitute a "no defense" plea following the patrolman's testimony.

The officer said he did not witness the mishap, but said his investigation showed Adams was headed toward East Liverpool and came up suddenly behind another car and was unable to stop.

The right front fender of Adams' auto hit the left rear of the other car and knocked it into the guard rails, where the entire side was scraped and the auto virtually was demolished, the officer testified.

Adams' auto crossed the medial strip and overturned, Patrolman Wenner said. He added that Adams told him at the time that another car bumped his and shoved him into the third, but the officer said there was no evidence of damage to the car or paint that substantiated Adams' claim.

In asking leniency for his client, Atty. Bauknecht said: "It technically was a violation but the circumstances do not call for an extreme or harsh penalty." He also exhibited what he said was a release from the other motorist for the damages.

Kenneth T. Brophey, 1704 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, drew a fine of $20 and costs after pleading guilty to a speeding charge filed by the patrol. Brophey was cited Saturday night on Route 7 between East Liverpool and Wellsville, the patrol said.

Man, Wife Fined For Disturbance

A Glenmoor couple was fined a total of $110 and costs on charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct and the husband was turned over to county authorities for violation of probation at a hearing Wednesday before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

Robert Yeager of the Y. & O. Rd. was fined $50 for resisting arrest and $25 and costs for disorderly conduct. His wife, Mrs. Nancy Yeager, was fined $25 and costs for resisting arrest and $10 for being disorderly.

Yeager, who was turned over to the county probation officer, pleaded guilty to the resisting charge. Yeager was on probation on an old robbery charge. He also was on parole from a Pennsylvania penitentiary, also on a robbery charge, police said.

They were arrested early Sunday morning at Pop's Tavern at 17th and Main Sts., Wellsville, after a disturbance.

Cumberland Man, 35, Faces Bigamy Charge

A New Cumberland man is being held in the Hancock County Jail today on a bigamy charge filed by his wife.

Guy Brady, 35, is being held in lieu of a $1,000 bond following a hearing Wednesday before Squire John D. Herron, when he was bound to the Grand Jury.

Mrs. Doris Brady of Weirton R. D. 1 filed the charge, alleging Brady married her in 1948 in Wellsburg and then married another woman, Lillian Bailey, in January, 1961, in New Cumberland without securing a divorce.

Berm Work Remains In Route 344 Project

Only the berm work remains to be completed in a resurfacing of 1.6 miles of Route 344 in Leetonia and 3.1 miles of Route 154 between Elkton and Lisbon, the Ohio Department of Highways Division 11 at New Philadelphia announced.

The City Asphalt & Paving Co. of Youngstown completed the main resurfacing project July 13 and is to finish the work by July 31. The contract was for $44,622.

Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia completed resurfacing of Routes 39 and 164 in Salineville and Route 164 in Bergholz earlier this month. The project, which included resurfacing of Route 9 in Jewett, cost $36,711.

Young Driver Gets $25 Fine After Mishap

An 18-year-old area youth was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court after being convicted folowing a brief hearing on a charge of failing to halt his car within the assured clear distance.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff suspended $15 of the fine for Darryl T. Adams of R. D. 2, who was cited by State Patrolman P. E. Wenner after a collision June 30 on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd., about a mile west of the East Liverpool limits.

Adams had entered a not guilty plea at an earlier hearing but his counsel, Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine, received the court's permission to substitute a "no defense" plea following the patrolman's testimony.

The officer said he did not witness the mishap, but said his investigation showed Adams was headed toward East Liverpool and came up suddenly behind another car and was unable to stop.

The right front fender of Adams' auto hit the left rear of the other car and knocked it into the guard rails, where the entire side was scraped and the auto virtually was demolished, the officer testified.

Adams' auto crossed the medial strip and overturned, Patrolman Wenner said. He added that Adams told him at the time that another car bumped his and shoved him into the third, but the officer said there was no evidence of damage to the car or paint that substantiated Adams' claim.

In asking leniency for his client, Atty. Bauknecht said: "It technically was a violation but the circumstances do not call for an extreme or harsh penalty." He also exhibited what he said was a release from the other motorist for the damages.

Kenneth T. Brophey, 1704 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, drew a fine of $20 and costs after pleading guilty to a speeding charge filed by the patrol. Brophey was cited Saturday night on Route 7 between East Liverpool and Wellsville, the patrol said.

Man, Wife Fined For Disturbance

A Glenmoor couple was fined a total of $110 and costs on charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct and the husband was turned over to county authorities for violation of probation at a hearing Wednesday before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

Robert Yeager of the Y. & O. Rd. was fined $50 for resisting arrest and $25 and costs for disorderly conduct. His wife, Mrs. Nancy Yeager, was fined $25 and costs for resisting arrest and $10 for being disorderly.

Yeager, who was turned over to the county probation officer, pleaded guilty to the resisting charge. Yeager was on probation on an old robbery charge. He also was on parole from a Pennsylvania penitentiary, also on a robbery charge, police said.

They were arrested early Sunday morning at Pop's Tavern at 17th and Main Sts., Wellsville, after a disturbance.

Cumberland Man, 35, Faces Bigamy Charge

A New Cumberland man is being held in the Hancock County Jail today on a bigamy charge filed by his wife.

Guy Brady, 35, is being held in lieu of a $1,000 bond following a hearing Wednesday before Squire John D. Herron, when he was bound to the Grand Jury.

Mrs. Doris Brady of Weirton R. D. 1 filed the charge, alleging Brady married her in 1948 in Wellsburg and then married another woman, Lillian Bailey, in January, 1961, in New Cumberland without securing a divorce.

School Board Boosts Funds At Wellsville

The 1963 budget, showing an increase of $53,711 over the 1962 estimate, was adopted by the Wellsville Board of Education at a special meeting Wednesday night.

The board also discussed presenting a new levy on the fall ballot to make up an anticipated deficit. The budget totals $642,711, compared with the 1962 figure of $589,000.

The boost resulted from increased operating expenses and anticipated salary increases for teachers and other personnel.

Raymond S. Rolley, clerk, reported the system now has 19 mills for operating expenses, including 4.6 mills inside the 10-mill limitation and 14.4 mills outside.

He said the millage outside the limitation will be cut back to approximately 13.2-mills when the new tax valuation goes into effect next year. The total taxable property valuation for the district now stands at $10,500,000 and about another $1 million will be added under the new valuation.

The board discussed the possibility of placing a 5-mill levy on the ballot to make up part of the anticipated deficit. The millage would bring in $52,000.

Supt. Lowell Myers said a $350-a-year increase for the teachers would cost $26,500 a year, but pointed out it would bring the teachers' salaries more in line with surrounding communities. He said $250-a-year more for the other personnel would cost $7,500 annually.

He said at least 5 mills would be needed if the board anticipates granting salary increases.

If the 5 mills is approved this year, the millage would be cut to about 4.5 or 4.6 under the new valuation, but it still would bring in the same amount of money.

Of the 19-mill total for the system, 4.6-mills is inside the 10-mill limitation. Levies of 6.6-mills and 2.8-mills must be placed on the ballot for renewal in 1963, while a 3-mill levy will be up for renewal in 1964 and a 2-mill levy will be voted on in 1970.

Part of the anticipated increases listed by Rolley in the budget are $25,000 more for salaries; $5,000 for administration expenses; $2,500 for operation salaries; $3,000 for maintenance; $4,000 for operation of the plant and $3,000 for matching retirement money. All funds showed a general increase.

Further action on a levy was postponed until the next meeting or possibly a special session.

Session Planned For GOP Women

Final Arguments Scheduled

Threat Of Boycott Looms Over Gas Rate Hike Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The threat of a boycott loomed today as counsel for cities opposing a $33.9 million rate boost by East Ohio Gas Co. was scheduled to present final arguments on the utility's random sampling plan.

James Harkins, assistant Cleveland law director, said at the close of Wednesday's session: "I doubt if I will be here." Similar doubts were expressed by the solicitors of Canton and Massillon.

Robert Strickling, examiner for the Utilities Commission, ordered the windup after rejecting the cities' contention they would need at least two more weeks to prepare final arguments.

Cleveland, Canton, Massillon and Akron are among Northeastern Ohio cities fighting the rate boost which would be figured in part, on results of the random sampling of pipelines at issue in this proceeding.

The plan involves inspecting underground pipelines at 1,300 locations to figure depreciation.

Canton Solicitor Harold DeHoff accused the commission of denying due process of law.

DeHoff moved at the conclusion of eight days of cross-examination of company witnesses for time to study the testimony and prepare a brief. He said the city solicitors from Cleveland, Massillon and Akron concurred.

But Strickling denied the motion and told the solicitors they would have 10 minutes each in which to argue the case this morning.

DeHoff said he considered this hardly time enough to review the more than 1,000 pages of testimony taken in the last two weeks and prepare an argument.

In addition to the recorded testimony, the company witnesses mentioned 286 pages of IBM tabulations which were not entered into the record. The company attorneys refused to give the city attorneys a copy of the tabulations but said they were free to examine them in East Ohio offices in Cleveland, DeHoff said.

He added: "The company in opposing this request is being unfair to the consumer."

Act On School Prayer

FRANCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Ohio is among 12 midwestern states asking the U.S. Supreme Court to reconsider its decision that states cannot require reading prayers in public schools. Delegates to the Midwestern Regional Conference of the Council of State Governments adopted the resolution at the final session of their annual meeting here Wednesday.

Rising Of Pool Behind New Dam Seen Nov. 1

CINCINNATI (AP) — The pool behind the new high level Markland, Ind., dam on the Ohio river is slated to start rising Nov. 1.

Brig. Gen. Jackson Graham, Chief of the U.S. Army Engineers' Cincinnati division, said Wednesday the pool will gradually go up to 25.5 feet from the present 11.6 feet.

Faces Damage Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—George Allendorf, 38, Cincinnati contractor, faces a suit for $515,000 damages growing out of a charge of maiming in a cocktail lounge incident. An attorney for Mrs. George Zanotto, 32, filed the suit Wednesday contending Allendorf was drunk June 14 when he smashed a glass and thrust it in the face of Mrs. Zanotto, a stranger.

Compromise Discussed In Doctor Strike

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP)—Opposing sides in the controversy over Saskatchewan's compulsory medical care program are talking compromise. But obstacles remain and the strike of most of the province's doctors continued today.

The doctors dropped their demand that the Socialist government suspend the Medical Care Insurance Act before they would consider a settlement. But they remained firm in their demands for major changes in the act before returning to normal practice.

The government, however, linked modifications of the act to the doctors' return to their offices. But it moved to placate the doctors on one key point by declaring it considers them free to practice outside the program.

The medical care program which went into effect July 1 covers everyone in the province not covered by a federal program. It is financed through direct assessments and general tax revenues. Doctors' fees are fixed.

Almost all the provinces' 700 doctors are refusing to practice under it, but about 200 are providing free medical care at 40 emergency centers. The doctors contend the program will lead to government control of the medical profession. The program's supporters contend the doctors are worried only about their pocketbooks.

Both sides stated their positions Wednesday before a convention of the ruling Socialist party, the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (CCF).

Soblen Plea Due Against British Move

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert Soblen's attorneys plan to file an appeal today against a court decision upholding the British government's detention of the convicted Soviet spy until it can expel him from Britain.

A three-man high court rejected Wednesday the 61-year-old psychiatrist's plea for liberty, made in an attempt to escape a life term in the United States for passing U.S. secrets to the Russians.

However, the judges granted his petition to appeal their decision to a higher tribunal. This may take six weeks or more. In the meantime the government in effect is barred from shipping Soblen out of the country.

Rejection of his appeal would leave Soblen one chance to escape U.S. justice—his petition to the Home Office for asylum as a political refugee. Granting of asylum is considered unlikely.

If both the appeal and the asylum petition are denied, he will be turned over to El Al, the Israeli airline, which would return him to New York.

Final Arguments Scheduled

Threat Of Boycott Looms Over Gas Rate Hike Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The threat of a boycott loomed today as counsel for cities opposing a $33.9 million rate boost by East Ohio Gas Co. was scheduled to present final arguments on the utility's random sampling plan.

James Harkins, assistant Cleveland law director, said at the close of Wednesday's session: "I doubt if I will be here." Similar doubts were expressed by the solicitors of Canton and Massillon.

Robert Strickling, examiner for the Utilities Commission, ordered the windup after rejecting the cities' contention they would need at least two more weeks to prepare final arguments.

Cleveland, Canton, Massillon and Akron are among Northeastern Ohio cities fighting the rate boost which would be figured in part, on results of the random sampling of pipelines at issue in this proceeding.

The plan involves inspecting underground pipelines at 1,300 locations to figure depreciation.

Canton Solicitor Harold DeHoff accused the commission of denying due process of law.

DeHoff moved at the conclusion of eight days of cross-examination of company witnesses for time to study the testimony and prepare a brief. He said the city solicitors from Cleveland, Massillon and Akron concurred.

But Strickling denied the motion and told the solicitors they would have 10 minutes each in which to argue the case this morning.

DeHoff said he considered this hardly time enough to review the more than 1,000 pages of testimony taken in the last two weeks and prepare an argument.

In addition to the recorded testimony, the company witnesses mentioned 286 pages of IBM tabulations which were not entered into the record. The company attorneys refused to give the city attorneys a copy of the tabulations but said they were free to examine them in East Ohio offices in Cleveland, DeHoff said.

He added: "The company in opposing this request is being unfair to the consumer."

Act On School Prayer

FRANCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Ohio is among 12 midwestern states asking the U.S. Supreme Court to reconsider its decision that states cannot require reading prayers in public schools. Delegates to the Midwestern Regional Conference of the Council of State Governments adopted the resolution at the final session of their annual meeting here Wednesday.

The Eisteddfed, a music and literary festival held in Wales, dates back to the Sixth Century.

Rising Of Pool Behind New Dam Seen Nov. 1

CINCINNATI (AP) — The pool behind the new high level Markland, Ind., dam on the Ohio river is slated to start rising Nov. 1.

Brig. Gen. Jackson Graham, Chief of the U.S. Army Engineers' Cincinnati division, said Wednesday the pool will gradually go up to 25.5 feet from the present 11.6 feet.

Faces Damage Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—George Allendorf, 38, Cincinnati contractor, faces a suit for $515,000 damages growing out of a charge of maiming in a cocktail lounge incident. An attorney for Mrs. George Zanotto, 32, filed the suit Wednesday contending Allendorf was drunk June 14 when he smashed a glass and thrust it in the face of Mrs. Zanotto, a stranger.

Maryland has won the soccer title all nine years of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Compromise Discussed In Doctor Strike

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP)—Opposing sides in the controversy over Saskatchewan's compulsory medical care program are talking compromise. But obstacles remain and the strike of most of the province's doctors continued today.

The doctors dropped their demand that the Socialist government suspend the Medical Care Insurance Act before they would consider a settlement. But they remained firm in their demands for major changes in the act before returning to normal practice.

The government, however, linked modifications of the act to the doctors' return to their offices. But it moved to placate the doctors on one key point by declaring it considers them free to practice outside the program.

The medical care program which went into effect July 1 covers everyone in the province not covered by a federal program. It is financed through direct assessments and general tax revenues. Doctors' fees are fixed.

Almost all the provinces' 700 doctors are refusing to practice under it, but about 200 are providing free medical care at 40 emergency centers. The doctors contend the program will lead to government control of the medical profession. The program's supporters contend the doctors are worried only about their pocketbooks.

Both sides stated their positions Wednesday before a convention of the ruling Socialist party, the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (CCF).

Soblen Plea Due Against British Move

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert Soblen's attorneys plan to file an appeal today against a court decision upholding the British government's detention of the convicted Soviet spy until it can expel him from Britain.

A three-man high court rejected Wednesday the 61-year-old psychiatrist's plea for liberty, made in an attempt to escape a life term in the United States for passing U.S. secrets to the Russians.

However, the judges granted his petition to appeal their decision to a higher tribunal. This may take six weeks or more. In the meantime the government in effect is barred from shipping Soblen out of the country.

Rejection of his appeal would leave Soblen one chance to escape U.S. justice—his petition to the Home Office for asylum as a political refugee. Granting of asylum is considered unlikety.

If both the appeal and the asylum petition are denied, he will be turned over to El Al, the Israeli airline, which would return him to New York.

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Savings Time, August 3, 1962, for the purchase of two (2) Motor Vehicles to be used as police cruisers, according to specifications now on file in the office of said Director.

Said bidders shall bid on one or two motor vehicles on either or both of the following basis:

(a) With no trade-in of city equipment.

(b) With a simultaneous sale to the bidder of a 1958 2-dr. Chevrolet Sedan and a 1960 4-dr. Chevrolet Sedan now used as police cruisers, with the stipulation that the sales price of one of the city vehicles be subtracted from the purchase price of each new vehicle as a means of determining the lowest and best bidder and to enter into a single contract for the sale of each of said city vehicles and purchases of each said new vehicle described above.

A contract or contracts will be entered into with the lowest and best bidders according to law.

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the bid for the new vehicle, payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool, as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted a contract shall be entered into and its performance properly secured. Junior Editors Quiz on MEXICO

QUESTION: Why is Mexico known as the Land of the Eagle and the Serpent?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In the center of Mexico lies a high plateau, over 7,000 feet above the tropical sea coast. Here the climate is very pleasant. There is a famous legend that the Aztec people, who lived on this plateau before the Spaniards came, discovered the site of present day Mexico City in 1325. As they explored the plateau, they came to a lake and noticed an island. Perched on a cactus plant growing on the island was an eagle which had captured a snake. The Aztecs took this for a good omen and decided to build a great city on this site. This they called Tenochtitlan, which later became known as Mexico City, and which is the capital of the country. This is one of the finest and most attractive cities in the world and the Mexicans are extremely proud of it. No doubt this is the reason why they chose the ancient legend of the eagle and the serpent to appear as a picture in the middle of their flag (see upper left.) In the large picture, our artist has given his own idea of what the eagle and the serpent must have looked like.

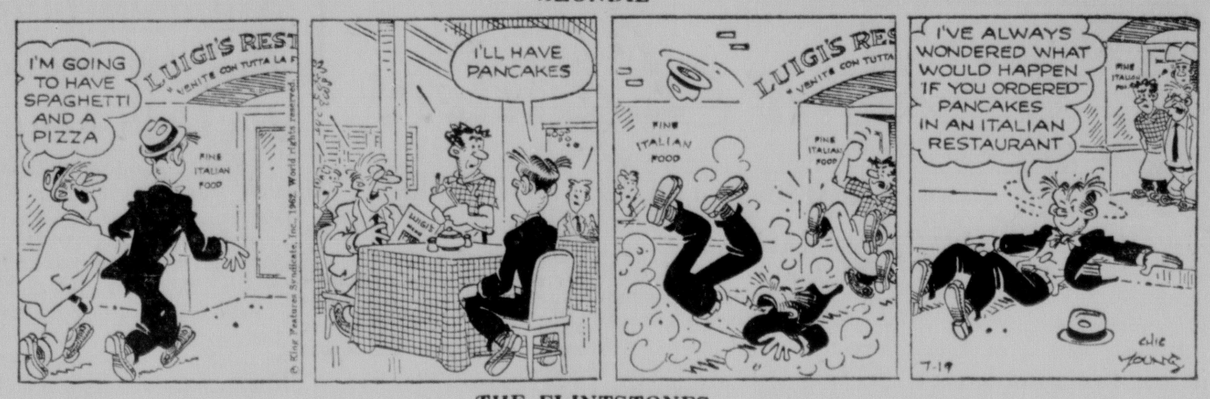

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Mexico was not the only country to select eagles for national symbols. Can you think of other eagle-using countries? (A hint: there have been more than two.)

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused at the letter from the young man who didn't know how to go about kissing a girl.

It seems this is an age-old problem. I ran across a copy of the Louisiana Advance, published in Arcadia on Aug. 16, 1889. The article was entitled "How Girls Want To Be Kissed." It certainly proves that human nature hasn't changed much in the past 73 years. A young woman wrote:

"I am getting tired of having my hats destroyed, my hair upset and my corsages torn to pieces by beginners. If the dear boys were told how to go about kissing their girls perhaps they wouldn't make such a mess of it.

"It isn't necessary, young man, to grab your girl as if she had just stolen a pocketbook. There is no necessity to clutch at her dress for dear life, or to pull her head forward with such intensity that her eyes are endangered by scarf pins or long pencils protruding from upper vest pockets.

"Bear in the mind, young man, the girl is not trying to get away. She has the same aim as you. Curve your arm tenderly around her waist and turn her toward you. Place your free arm around her shoulder and give her a gentle and soulful caress. Then let nature do her work."

Cheats At Cards

Dear Ann: I've played cards with the same group of women for years. The current game is Canasta. It's a friendly game, but we play for fairly high stakes. Over a period of time, large sums of money have changed hands.

Recently I went away on a vacation and I asked a woman who is new in town to substitute for me. She's an excellent card player and gave me quite an earful when I returned.

She told me that Mrs. X. cheated and then she proceeded to tell me exactly how she did it. I was shocked. Mrs. X has been playing in our group for many years. She's been fantastically lucky. She rarely loses, and then only small amounts.

Now, Ann, what shall I do about it? Would it be gest to say nothing and just drop out of the group? Or shall I tell the others what's been going on?—FLABBER GASTED.

Dear Flabber: Say nothing for the time being. Play with the group as usual and keep your eye on Mrs. X. Since you've been clued in, it shouldn't be difficult to determine for yourself if she is cheating.

If she is, go to her privately and tell her you are aware of what she has been doing. Let her know you're willing to give her a chance to go straight. If after this warning she cheats again, stop her dead in her tracks and expose her to one and all.

Brief, To The Point

Dear Ann: I'll make it brief and to the point. Why in heaven's name would a beautifully educated fellow (also attractive and from a good family) marry a girl who is stupid, ignorant, and totally incapable of carrying on an intelligent conversation?

Thank you for enlightening me if you can.—BAFFLED.

Dear Baffled: I guess this beautifully educated fellow is interested in other things besides intelligent conversation.

Confidentially

TO DOCTOR BILL BLUES: "Running to doctors" when you are not sick is a sickness in itself. Your wife needs to talk this over with a specialist. Ask her foot doctor to send her to a head doctor.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

National Title Bid Arranged By Drill Team

The drill squad of Wellsville VFW Post 9285 will hold a Tag Day Saturday beginning at 9 a. m. in Wellsville to raise funds to attend the national convention at St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 12-17.

The squad, holder of the state championship, hopes to win the national championship. Kenneth Carter, team president, said the national competition will be Aug. 13 at the University of Minnesota.

Members will wear their new uniforms Saturday. Trophies won by the squad will be displayed at the Francis White Insurance Agency at 5th and Main Sts.

Final plans for a district family picnic Sunday, July 29, were outlined at a meeting of the post Wednesday night.

Ed Parker, commander, presided. The post will serve as host for the district event at Smith's Farm at Hammondsville. Refreshments, games and entertainment will be provided. Some 150 to 200 are expected from the 33 posts in the district.

Parker reported on the state convention held at Cleveland. The post won three citations. They were for Poppy sales, exceeding the 100 per cent membership goal and for community service.

Social membership cards are being distributed. The by - laws committee will meet Sunday at 7 p. m.

The drill squad will march in parades Friday night at Newell and Saturday night at Yorkville.

Medical Figure Dies

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. George Eli Bennett, 76, member of the medical profession for 50 years and considered a leading influence on baseball through his services to numerous ailing players, died Wednesday.

'Jaycee Day' Program Set At Wellsville

A chairman for the annual Jaycee Day celebration Monday, Sept. 3—Labor Day—was named at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night at the Jaycee Hall.

Named was Jerry Russell. Various committees will be named later, according to Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, president. A free concert is planned Sunday, Sept. 2, to launch the event.

Various other projects were discussed. The community activity calendar has been completed and is being printed. It will be ready for delivery Aug. 15. The calendar runs from September to September.

A report was heard on the library reading program sponsored by the Jaycees. The program ends today with a theater party for those who participated.

A report also was heard on the city's clean-up beautification program. Litter barrels distributed by the Jaycees are being stenciled.

Work is progressing on the construction of a pavilion at Hammond Park, as well as on the entrance to the football stadium.

A discussion was held on the proposed combination Post Office-City Hall, along with a proposed hospital for the city.

The board voted to continue the Speak-Up Jaycee program. The proposed budget for the year was adopted.

A "membership night" will be held in the near future to recruit new members. A presidents' council will be held Wednesday night at Minerva.

The general membership meeting will be Monday night at the Jaycee Hall.

GOP Women To Hold Session In Wellsville

The Wellsville Women's Republican Club will hold an open meeting Monday night at 8 at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. Mary Clark and Mrs. Betty Rager, co-presidents, will preside. Plans will be outlined for a bake sale. A discussion will be held on a "lunch and learn" session to be held by the State Federation of Republican Women Aug. 1 from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Fish and Game Club at New Waterford. The instructor will be Florence Morris.

A membership campaign is being conducted. The membership committee and other committees will report. Anyone interested may attend. Refreshments will be served.

There are 68 land grant colleges in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Unruly Inmates' Spirits Dampen In Akron Flare

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—High-pressure streams of water from two hoses were turned on prisoners in the maximum security range at Summit County Jail for more than 15 minutes before a disturbance was brought to an end early today, deputies reported.

The disturbance started shortly after 10 Wednesday night. Jailer Charles Bell investigated and found that a prisoner, Frank Carpenter, 27, had been beaten, apparently by three or four other prisoners in an open area outside the individual cells.

Carpenter was removed for questioning, but when deputy George Buca tried to get the other prisoners to go to their individual cells the prisoners were defiant.

Sheriff Robert Campbell and his deputies tried unsuccessfully to persuade the prisoners to go to their cells before calling in the fire department.

Cause of the disturbance and the reason for the beating given Carpenter were not known immediately. Carpenter was in jail on charges of driving with a suspended license and reckless operation. Deputies said he was in the maximum security range because he was a parolee from a previous felony sentence.

Boy, 7, Drowns

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Firemen recovered the body of Adolph Collier, 7, from a creek in nearby Patriot late Wednesday. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Collier, drowned while wading in the creek with his brother, Steve 9.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, July 19, and 200th day of 1962. There are 165 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1892, President Benjamin Harrison ordered 2,000 U. S. troops to the Coeur D'Alene mining district in Idaho to restore order among striking miners.

On this date —

In 1779, West Point was fortified by American troops.

In 1870, the Franco - Prussian War began.

In 1912, about 14,000 particles struck the earth in a meteor shower near Holbrook, Ariz.

In 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt signed the two-ocean navy bill.

In 1955, the Railway Express Agency retired its last electric delivery truck.

Today's birthdays:

Novelist A. J. Cronin is 66 years old.

Thought for today:

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused at the letter from the young man who didn't know how to go about kissing a girl.

It seems this is an age-old problem. I ran across a copy of the Louisiana Advance, published in Arcadia on Aug. 16, 1889. The article was entitled "How Girls Want To Be Kissed." It certainly proves that human nature hasn't changed much in the past 73 years. A young woman wrote:

"I am getting tired of having my hats destroyed, my hair upset and my corsages torn to pieces by beginners. If the dear boys were told how to go about kissing their girls perhaps they wouldn't make such a mess of it.

"It isn't necessary, young man, to grab your girl as if she had just stolen a pocketbook. There is no necessity to clutch at her dress for dear life, or to pull her head forward with such intensity that her eyes are endangered by scarf pins or long pencils protruding from upper vest pockets.

"Bear in the mind, young man, the girl is not trying to get away. She has the same aim as you. Curve your arm tenderly around her waist and turn her toward you. Place your free arm around her shoulder and give her a gentle and soulful caress. Then let nature do her work."

Cheats At Cards

Dear Ann: I've played cards with the same group of women for years. The current game is Canasta. It's a friendly game, but we play for fairly high stakes. Over a period of time, large sums of money have changed hands.

Recently I went away on a vacation and I asked a woman who is new in town to substitute for me. She's an excellent card player and gave me quite an earful when I returned.

She told me that Mrs. X. cheated and then she proceeded to tell me exactly how she did it. I was shocked. Mrs. X has been playing in our group for many years. She's been fantastically lucky. She rarely loses, and then only small amounts.

Now, Ann, what shall I do about it? Would it be gest to say nothing and just drop out of the group? Or shall I tell the others what's been going on?—FLABBER GASTED.

Dear Flabber: Say nothing for the time being. Play with the group as usual and keep your eye on Mrs. X. Since you've been clued in, it shouldn't be difficult to determine for yourself if she is cheating.

If she is, go to her privately and tell her you are aware of what she has been doing. Let her know you're willing to give her a chance to go straight. If after this warning she cheats again, stop her dead in her tracks and expose her to one and all.

Brief, To The Point

Dear Ann: I'll make it brief and to the point. Why in heaven's name would a beautifully educated fellow (also attractive and from a good family) marry a girl who is stupid, ignorant, and totally incapable of carrying on an intelligent conversation?

Thank you for enlightening me if you can.—BAFFLED.

Dear Baffled: I guess this beautifully educated fellow is interested in other things besides intelligent conversation.

Confidentially

TO DOCTOR BILL BLUES: "Running to doctors" when you are not sick is a sickness in itself. Your wife needs to talk this over with a specialist. Ask her foot doctor to send her to a head doctor.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

National Title Bid Arranged By Drill Team

The drill squad of Wellsville VFW Post 9285 will hold a Tag Day Saturday beginning at 9 a. m. in Wellsville to raise funds to attend the national convention at St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 12-17.

The squad, holder of the state championship, hopes to win the national championship. Kenneth Carter, team president, said the national competition will be Aug. 13 at the University of Minnesota.

Members will wear their new uniforms Saturday. Trophies won by the squad will be displayed at the Francis White Insurance Agency at 5th and Main Sts.

Final plans for a district family picnic Sunday, July 29, were outlined at a meeting of the post Wednesday night.

Ed Parker, commander, presided. The post will serve as host for the district event at Smith's Farm at Hammondsville. Refreshments, games and entertainment will be provided. Some 150 to 200 are expected from the 33 posts in the district.

Parker reported on the state convention held at Cleveland. The post won three citations. They were for Poppy sales, exceeding the 100 per cent membership goal and for community service.

Social membership cards are being distributed. The by - laws committee will meet Sunday at 7 p. m.

The drill squad will march in parades Friday night at Newell and Saturday night at Yorkville.

Medical Figure Dies

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. George Eli Bennett, 76, member of the medical profession for 50 years and considered a leading influence on baseball through his services to numerous ailing players, died Wednesday.

'Jaycee Day' Program Set At Wellsville

A chairman for the annual Jaycee Day celebration Monday, Sept. 3—Labor Day—was named at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night at the Jaycee Hall.

Named was Jerry Russell. Various committees will be named later, according to Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, president. A free concert is planned Sunday, Sept. 2, to launch the event.

Various other projects were discussed. The community activity calendar has been completed and is being printed. It will be ready for delivery Aug. 15. The calendar runs from September to September.

A report was heard on the library reading program sponsored by the Jaycees. The program ends today with a theater party for those who participated.

A report also was heard on the city's clean-up beautification program. Litter barrels distributed by the Jaycees are being stenciled.

Work is progressing on the construction of a pavilion at Hammond Park, as well as on the entrance to the football stadium.

A discussion was held on the proposed combination Post Office-City Hall, along with a proposed hospital for the city.

The board voted to continue the Speak-Up Jaycee program. The proposed budget for the year was adopted.

A "membership night" will be held in the near future to recruit new members. A presidents' council will be held Wednesday night at Minerva.

The general membership meeting will be Monday night at the Jaycee Hall.

GOP Women To Hold Session In Wellsville

The Wellsville Women's Republican Club will hold an open meeting Monday night at 8 at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. Mary Clark and Mrs. Betty Rager, co-presidents, will preside. Plans will be outlined for a bake sale. A discussion will be held on a "lunch and learn" session to be held by the State Federation of Republican Women Aug. 1 from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Fish and Game Club at New Waterford. The instructor will be Florence Morris.

A membership campaign is being conducted. The membership committee and other committees will report. Anyone interested may attend. Refreshments will be served.

There are 68 land grant colleges in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Unruly Inmates' Spirits Dampen In Akron Flare

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—High-pressure streams of water from two hoses were turned on prisoners in the maximum security range at Summit County Jail for more than 15 minutes before a disturbance was brought to an end early today, deputies reported.

The disturbance started shortly after 10 Wednesday night. Jailer Charles Bell investigated and found that a prisoner, Frank Carpenter, 27, had been beaten, apparently by three or four other prisoners in an open area outside the individual cells.

Carpenter was removed for questioning, but when deputy George Buca tried to get the other prisoners to go to their individual cells the prisoners were defiant.
